Little Boy's Kidnaper Captured in Wild Chase

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — A little boy in a blue bathing suit, two-day hostage of a kidnaper who made him a shield during a wild, shooting auto chase, was reunited Friday with his wealthy parents.

FBI agents pulled Stanley Stafford Jr., 4, out of the wreck. age of his abductor's car after it was deliberately rammed by an FBI auto, causing a pileup at an intersection.

The tyke, son of the chairman of the board of the $100-million Fidelity Bank of Beverly Hills, was bruised and suffered a cut on his left knee.

His abductor, identified by the FBI as Robert L. Dacy, 39, an ex-convict of nearby Lakewood, suffered a broken right leg and his right forehead was creased by a bullet during the 10-minute pursuit.

"I took good care of your boy," Dacy told the youngster's mother as she arrived at Morning-side Hospital where doctors took seven stitches in Stanley's leg. "I gave him candy and milk."

In predawn darkness earlier, an intermediary for the family tried unsuccessfully to swap $250,000 in $20 bills for the boy.

The intermediary, family friend and restaurateur Ted Tracton, said he met the kidnaper and his small captive on a lonely road near a dump south of downtown Los Angeles.

Tracton said he placed the money in a bag beside the kidnaper's car, but before the man got out to pick it up he apparently became alarmed at the approach of another car and sped off with the boy. Tracton said he thought it was an FBI car.

Tracton recovered the money. The chase started in the same general area after, agents said, they spotted the car and identified the driver and boy from photographs. Agents said they knew Dacy's identity beforehand, but declined to say how.

The kidnaper led six FBI cars with 12 agents on a wild ride at 80 to 90 miles per hour at times, over highways and residential streets, through alleys and parking lots.

Agents refused to say whether the boy had been threatened or harmed, since this will have a bearing on the penalty if he is convicted.

"I want my mummy," cried the youngster. His mother called him Stan Stan and gathered him in her arms. He broke into a flood of tears and uncontrollable sobbing. "I want to go home," he said.

His mother, in pink capris, matching flowered blouse, pink turban and slippers, and his father, in a sports shirt and slacks, took him to the airport and left town for the weekend. Mrs. Stafford, tears in her

Allied Forces Beat Back Enemy Drive on Da Nang

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces, supported by dive bombers, beat back an enemy drive against Da Nang, the country's second largest city, and killed 126 infiltrators in three sharp battles, military spokesmen reported Friday. Elsewhere ground action was sporadic.

The three battles occurred Thursday night to 25 miles south of Da Nang, target of another abortive enemy drive last week.

South Vietnamese rangers, backed by an armored column and dive bombers, reported killing 87 enemy in the heaviest of the three battles. Ranger losses were put at five dead and 23 wounded.

A mile away, about 150 U.S. Marines came under heavy small-arms fire while combing the area for infiltrators. Another 150 Leathernecks reinforced them while American fighter-bombers and artillery pounded the enemy positions. The enemy force pulled back after 3½ hours and a sweep of the battlefield turned up 24 enemy bodies. Marine losses were reported at two dead and 41 wounded.

Another U.S. Marine unit clashed with two platoons of North Vietnamese soldiers-70 to 80 men-about 25 miles south of Da Nang. Dive bombers and artillery were called in during the height of the battle. The enemy pulled back after killing eight Marines and wounding 11. The Marines reported killing 15 North Vietnamese.

In Saigon, police were reported to have nipped a Viet Cong sabotage and assassination plot with the arrest of about a dozen suspects in Cholom, the Chinese sector of the city. A Viet Cong prisoner led police and security forces to a group of houses where a cache of weapons and explosives was seized and the arrests made. Security precautions have become increasingly

Doctors Say Ike Steadily Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors, reporting a slow but so far steady improvement in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition, said Friday his spirits have graduated to "excellent." He has even begun to read in bed.

Prior to Friday medical bulletin, the farthest doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital had gone in describing the general's spirits was to say they were "remarkably good" or that he was "cheerful."

On the medical side, the doctors reported that the recently noted favorable downward trend in cardiac irritability—extra and irregular heart beats—has continued since Thursday's reports.

Friday marked the end of the second week since his seventh heart attack.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted heart specialist, deplored in commenting on Eisenhower's case that "this country is riddled with" the type of coronary blood vessel abnormality that White said is the basic cause of heart attacks like Eisenhower has had.

LBJ Reports Soviet Invasion May Erupt Again in Europe

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said Friday night there are rumors the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia might be repeated elsewhere in Eastern Europe and asserted "Let no one unleash the dogs of war."

Johnson warned any would-be aggressor not to misjudge America and said that there will be no appeasement of those who prowl across national boundaries "in this or any other administration."

The rumors centered on Romania and came through official channels rather than from news reports from overseas.

Romanian travelers arriving in Bucharest said Friday Soviet and Bulgarian forces are concentrating on Romania's borders. Romanian government officials declined to comment on the reports.

The Soviet bloc has berated Romanian leaders for siding with Czechoslovakia. But the Soviet press has classed as provocation Western stories that Romania might share the fate of Czechoslovakia.

Johnson called for efforts at peaceful settlement of international troubles, declaring that there must be no return "to a world of unbridled aggression." Johnson inserted word of the rumors that Russia might march on other neighbors into an address to a convention of milk producers from Texas and six neighboring states.

White House sources said

Johnson based his interpolation on enough information to arouse "anxiety."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington telephoned reports of the rumors to the Chief Executive shortly before Johnson took off by helicopter from his ranch 75 miles north of here.

The President quickly conferred with his special assistant on national security affairs in Washington, Walt W. Rostow. And then he worked out a lengthy addition to his prepared speech on his flight to San Antonio.

Up to that time it was a rather prosaic speech, distinguished mainly by the fact that it was the President's first since the conclusion of the national political conventions.

Johnson cautioned: "Let no one in this age of highly charged debate ever doubt the true views of the American people." See LBJ, Page 2

O'Brien To Mastermind Democratic Campaign

CHICAGO (AP) — Lawrence F. O'Brien, a top political strategist for the Kennedys, President Johnson, and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, was given Friday the dual role of chairman of the Democratic National Committee and manager of Humphrey's presidential campaign.

Humphrey appeared before the committee at its post-convention organization meeting to designate O'Brien as his choice to succeed John M. Bailey of Connecticut as committee chairman.

Humphrey told the committee that O'Brien, former postmaster general, would have full authority.

His designation of the 51-year-old Massachusetts native as both committee chairman and campaign manager was a departure from usual practice, and it brought a loud cheer from committee members.

Often in the past the National Committee has been bypassed in favor of the presidential campaign organization.

Humphrey opened the meeting with a long pep talk in which he attempted to heal some of the wounds opened during the often raucous four-day convention.

"Wherever we have difficulty you can trace it right to our lack of unity," the vice president said.

He called the appearance before the convention Thursday night of Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, one of his rivals for the presidential nomination, "one of the most magnificent gestures of loyalty" he has ever seen.

Then in an obvious reference to another rival, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, he added "and I'm sure others will come too . . . it's not easy for someone who has fought his heart out to come quickly."

Humphrey took care also to emphasize that he is going to be his own man now that he is a candidate for president.

Then, turning to the party platform and particularly its Vietnam plank, which supported the administration position, Humphrey said he thinks "the most foolish thing a man can do is be wedded inflexibly to every word."

Humphrey To Launch Campaign in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey opens his presidential campaign Monday in New York, where the nation's largest bloc of electoral votes rests and where the Democratic party organization lies in nearly total disarray.

The vice president is to march up Fifth Avenue in the city's Labor Day parade, to 62nd Street where it ends near the apartment building occupied by Nelson A. Rockefeller and Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon, expected to be in town that day, also faces no small task in his quest for the 43 electoral votes of his adopted state.

The Republican state party organization was run by the man he defeated for the presidential nomination, Gov. Rockefeller. And the party already is fighting with the state's Conservative party over a move to link Nixon with that party on the November ballot.

Humphrey is likely to walk along Fifth Avenue without New York's new leading Democrat, Paul O'Dwyer, who is running for the U.S. Senate seat held by Republican Jacob K. Javits.

O'Dwyer said again Friday that under "no circumstances" would he support Humphrey because of the vice president's views on Vietnam. O'Dwyer, a former city councilman and brother of the late Mayor William O'Dwyer, won an upset primary victory for the nomination as an ardent supporter of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The New York Democrats were never a united party this political season, in the sense that the party chairman could deliver all or nearly all the delegate votes. The assassination of Robert F. Kennedy left them without even a leader.

State Chairman John J. Burns endorsed Humphrey just as the convention began, but when the roll call came, McCarthy got 87 votes, Humphrey 96½.

The deep division was exposed more dramatically when the McCarthy faction, led by O'Dwyer, rebelled over the choice of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie for vice president, and refused to cast its 90 of the 190 delegate votes.

Chicago Policeman Defends Position

CHICAGO (AP) — "We're human, but we have a job as policemen. And people expect more from a policeman than they would from an ordinary citizen."

Patrolman Frank Nanni voiced this view to a newsman Thursday night about the bloody melee involving police and angry demonstrators in Chicago's streets and parks while Democratic convention delegates chose their candidate for president.

"It's pretty tough to stand there and have some smelly looking human being call you a pig and a few other things that I wouldn't like to mention right now," Nanni said. He was at his post in a tight line of helmeted policemen guarding the main entrance to the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

For five consecutive nights, police and Illinois National Guardsmen manned battle lines against crowds screaming protests against U.S. policy in Vietnam and social ills at home.

"I just felt I didn't want to show them that I was as small as they were—or as ignorant," said Nanni, who at 25 is not much older than most of the demonstrators.

"What I did was just smile and felt I was a better man for standing there and taking it," he added.

Frank Nanni is fairly typical among Chicago's 10,000 policemen. Born on the city's North-west side, he was married only two weeks ago.

A former member of the Illinois National Guard, he has been on the police force three years, once was injured trying to break up a drag race, earns $9,000 a year.

He's 6 feet 1, packs 180 pounds on a muscular frame. His black hair is clipped short above his brown eyes; he speaks slowly, selects words carefully.

"I think it is wrong," Nanni said of the protests. "I think they defeat their own purpose—advocating violence, shooting policemen, burning down the city. One guy got on top a car with a loudspeaker and said everybody should shoot a policeman. You gotta look at it this way: if you got a crowd of 3,000 people, you don't know if they're armed."

Mayor Daley has defended measures taken by police against the demonstrators as necessary to preserve order. "It's really their aim to try and make you lose your temper so that you will look unprofessional as a police officer," Nanni said. "I think the police handled themselves remarkably well."

"I have seen this with my own eyes," he said. "There was a crowd of people moving out of the disturbance area when the television cameras put their lights on. And soon as the lights went on they all started yelling and screaming and throwing things at the police.

"The live coverage of any civil disturbance should not be televised. It brings in people that are thrill-seekers and who want to see what's going on—and these are the people that are getting hurt."

Many innocent bystanders were caught up Wednesday night in police sweeps up and down fashionable Michigan Avenue in front of the hotel headquarters of the Democratic National Convention and the party's presidential nominee, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

"Anybody with any common sense wouldn't have been on the street at a time like that," said Nanni.

"And everybody in front of the Conrad Hilton was warned three or four times to clear the sidewalks."

ple on these matters." The President said he will devote a great deal of effort this autumn "to placing the next president in the strongest possible position."

To that pledge covering both the Republican and Democratic nominees, Johnson coupled an admonition that "we of America's parties must guard against the spirit of faction in all that we do."

But the President himself, and none of his aides, offered any clue to whether Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey and vice presidential teammate Edmund S. Muskie could expect any solid campaign help from Johnson.

And for the moment, assistant press secretary Tom Johnson said there were no plans for the Democratic standard-bearers to visit the LBJ ranch—as Republicans Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew did the day after their nomination.

Chautauqua Sales Tax Hike Effective Sunday

An additional 3 per cent sales tax will be levied on Chautauqua Co. taxpayers beginning Sunday. When coupled with the current 2 per cent state sales tax, a total of 5 per cent tax on most sales and services will then be in effect.

The new imposition voted by the Chautauqua Co. Board of Supervisors last May is expected to add $6 million to the county coffers. One per cent of this amount is being returned to the town and villages of the county.

The remainder will be used by the county in its budget. When first proposed, 1 per cent of the sales tax was earmarked for the county school district. Sometime late in the Spring, however, the decision was made by county officials not to include the 17 school districts in the county.

The new 3 per cent sales tax will be added to every item being taxed under the state sales tax which went into effect Aug. 1, 1965. Covered under the tax are: 1. sales of tangible personal property, 2. sales of most services, 3. use of tangible personal property and services, 4. sales of gas, electricity, refrigeration and steam, and telephone and telegraph service, 5. rental of hotel and motel rooms, 6. food and beverages in restaurants costing more than $1.75, admission to amusements and cabarets, and club dues.

Exempt from most sales taxes are: food and medicine (when purchased for home consumption), medical and hospital services; sale or rental of real property; services of barbers, beauticians, laundries, dry-cleaners and shoe repairmen.

The amount to be returned to the municipalities is determined on a population equivalent basis. The villages and towns may elect to take a portion of the sales-tax receipts in cash. If a village elects to take cash payments, the rate for state and county taxes within the village or town will be reduced.

heavy in the capital over the past several days.

In the air war, U.S. B52 bombers flew 11 missions late Thursday and early Friday to break up enemy troop concentrations, staging areas and camps in South Vietnam. U.S. headquarters reported pilots flew 130 strike missions over North Vietnam's panhandle Thursday, destroying or damaging 114 supply barges and 44 trucks.

In another development, American prisoners rioted Friday in the U.S. Army's largest penal stockade in Vietnam at Long Binh. Before military police could put down the disorders, one inmate had been killed, 59 prisoners, four MPs and the acting warden injured, and a number of buildings in the compound burned.

eyes but not crying openly, learned from the FBI that the kidnaper had kept her boy at the Trade Winds Motel in Lakewood after taking him from the family home.

The boy's mother had let the kidnaper into the plush house, believing his pose as an electrician wanting to see some equipment to help in his work at the house next door.

The FBI said Dacy had served terms at a military prison at Camp Cooke, Calif., and at a federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., and had a record of other offenses.

Charges against him included violation of military code, auto theft, larceny and interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle, the FBI said.

State Insurance Companies Granted $6-Million Rate Hike

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's second, fourth and fifth largest automobile insurers were granted a collective $6 million rate increase Friday by Insurance Commissioner David O. Maxwell.

State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., the second largest writer in the state, was authorized to raise its liability, medical payments, comprehensive and collision rates, effective Oct. 1, for new business, and Nov. 1 for renewals.

Aetna Casualty and Surety Co. was told it may increase its family automobile, bodily injury and property damage premiums by $959,100, effective Sept. 11. Aetna is the fourth leading auto insurer in the state.

Erie Insurance Exchange, the fifth, was granted a $2,189,600 increase in its liability, medical payments, comprehensive and collision rates. The higher rates take effect Sept. 15 for new business, and Oct. 1 for renewals.

In approving the increases, Maxwell noted:

"In spite of a continued inflationary trend of the nation's economy, the last automobile insurance rate increases approved for these companies were: State Farm, Jan. 1, 1966; Aetna, Oct. 1, 1965; and Erie, July 1, 1965."

The approval came on the heels of a 2.9 million rate increase granted to the Insurance Rating Board, which represents companies writing 33 per cent of auto liability and 49 per cent of physical damage coverage in the state.

The IRB generally sets the trend for auto rates in Pennsylvania. The $4.9 million increase represented a drop of $6.2 million from IRB's original filing, which Maxwell had rejected last April 16.

The State Farm approval represented a reduction of $930,300 in the company's original $4,005,700 application.

Aetna's $1,212,700 request was trimmed by $253,600 by the department, while Erie was granted the full $2.1 million it sought.

All three filings were made available by the companies for public inspection. Maxwell conducted public hearings on all three requests.

Warren Edinboro College Campus Registration Deadline Sept. 5

The deadline for registration for a record enrollment of 300 students at the Warren Campus of Edinboro State College has been set for Thursday, Sept. 5.

In addition to completing registration requirements students are asked to purchase books and pay school fees on that day.

Course fees at the school will be $15 per semester hour for residents of Pennsylvania with a maximum fee of $175 for all full time students taking 12 hours or more. Out of state students will pay $25 per credit hour. In addition full time students will pay a $15 student activity fee and part time students a $5 activity fee.

Although the curriculum at the campus will remain the same as last year, five new instructors have been added to the teaching staff. Director Frank Johnson said a new director of nursing is being sought.

Orientation for all new full time students will be held in Room 4 Friday, Sept. 6 at the East st. school.

Conversational Counselling And Compost

By Bernie Wingert, County Agent

It's been a few weeks since I've written anything philosophical or intellectual so I guess it's time to get back on the "stump" today.

The job of the county agents dates back only to about the time of the first world war. But during a relatively brief time the nation's agriculture has gone through a technological, social and political revolution that's nearly unbelievable.

Originally the county agent found himself a new and trusted individual in the community attempting to "sell" a handful of the more progressive farmers on some of the newer ideas from the state agricultural college. His job wasn't easy. Most farmers were skeptical as to whether anything a "college boy" had to offer could be of any practical value.

Gradually the situation changed. The agents' advice was found sound and helpful, and people sought advice on disease and pest control, new varieties, and improved methods of doing things. As a partial result there came the technological revolution.

Today what do we do? We for most part work with people in town as well as in the country to help them develop better social and political tools with which to solve the problems of a highly organized and extremely complex world society. My, my, doesn't that sound "hi-powered"? Sure we're still busy with phone calls asking about insects, and grass diseases, and fruit sprays, and trees that are dying, but "people" are the big business. So we work with "this board" and "that agency" and "this committee" and "that club" nearly half of each working day and night.

To understand people is probably as important to today's agent as it is to understand when and why slugs cause so much trouble in a tomato garden. While attending classes at Penn State a few years ago I recall a professor, who I admired greatly, give this equation of human behavior—ABILITY plus MOTIVATION equals PERFORMANCE. There's little doubt in my mind that this is true. I saw it work at the Warren County Fair week before last. Hundreds of people with all kinds of abilities motivated by a strong desire to make a new fair successful, carried out a difficult job to a quite successful conclusion.

Certainly there were lots of problems and grief, and irritations, and even some unhappy folks, but when all was said and done a fair WAS HELD in this county, at a new grounds, under some adverse conditions.

LBJ Likes Demo Ticket Makes No Help Offer

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — President Johnson liked the Democratic ticket and the acceptance speeches of Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie, aides reported Friday. But there was no indication whether they could expect any campaign help from him.

Nor for the moment, assistant White House press secretary Tom Johnson said, were there any plans for the presidential and vice presidential nominees to visit the LBJ ranch. Johnson brought Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew, the Republican candidates, to the ranch the day after they were nominated.

Tom Johnson was asked what President Johnson's political stance would be now that the political conventions are over—whether he might make some speeches on behalf of Humphrey this fall.

The press aide said he knew of no plans for any speeches nor what the policy would be on oratorical endeavors.

But should Johnson hop into the campaign, it would go counter to a pronouncement he made March 31 when he announced he would neither seek nor accept the presidential nomination this year.

He said then that "with America's sons in the fields far away, with our hopes and the world's hopes for peace in the balance every day, I do not believe that I should devote an hour or a day of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any other duties other than the awesome duties of this office—the presidency of your country."

Perhaps the President applied this belief to attendance at the Democratic convention in Chicago, in any event, the man who has been deeply immersed in politics for more than half his life stayed away.

Instead, he watched and listened at home. Radio and a three-screen, all-network television console brought the proceedings into his office or living quarters.

It was the first time since 1944, when the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt accepted his fourth term nomination from a secret, wartime spot on the West Coast, that an incumbent president had stayed away from his party's national convention.

In Washington the Secret Service said it had nothing to do with the decision to pass up the convention.

"The Secret Service did not recommend to the President against a visit to Chicago for the convention," a spokesman said.

As he had with Humphrey the day before, Johnson called Muskie Thursday to offer congratulations to the Maine senator.

But aside from such skimpy details as that, the Texas White House offered little enlightenment on Johnson's reactions to the Chicago candidate-picking.

Tom Johnson told newsmen the President thought Humphrey's acceptance speech was excellent, and that went for Muskie's too.

Humphrey Working To Unite Demo Party

CHICAGO (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey moved to patch up his fractured party Friday calling for patience for Sen. Eugene McCarthy and a warning against a Republican victory.

The vice president praised Sen. George McGovern's gestures of support and told Democratic party officials that he thinks McCarthy and other dissidents ultimately will lend their support too.

And the vice president, the day after accepting the Democratic presidential nomination, stepped forward to take over the party command from President Johnson.

Humphrey told the Democratic National Committee that he is "the leader of our party." Humphrey, who went to bed late Thursday night, slept in this morning. Then with his vice presidential choice — Sen. Edmund Muskie — at his side he attended a campaign workshop.

"It was sort of like a good revival meeting," Humphrey said later. "It refreshed the spirit and took aim on a kind of moving target," Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee.

From the turbulence of the Chicago convention scene, with its demonstrations and rioting, Humphrey flies north to Minnesota for a weekend of rest at his lakeside home in Waverly before officially opening his campaign on Labor Day in New York.

Humphrey acknowledged the turbulent performance of the Democrats at their convention and in the convention setting.

But he said he would rather have this "than a national wake like our opposition had down in Miami."

Humphrey, raising a standard of unity, said Americans need to understand that the Democratic party "not only has an open door and an open heart but an open mind."

In addition, Humphrey said, "We need to ask young people to come in with us."

And he added: "I do not want young people pounding at the door. I want them opening the door. I want them inside the house."

Construction Underway At State Police Academy

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Police broke ground Friday for construction of a $1,655,419 addition to the eight-year-old State Police Academy at nearby Hershey.

The wing, scheduled for completion by November, 1969, is to provide dormitory space for an additional 100 State Police cadets as well as increased facilities for the two-month training program offered to 100 municipal police officers each year.

Other features of the wing will include extra locker space, five new dayrooms, four classrooms, a lecture hall, and an underwater training tank.

The State Police force currently numbers 2,863 with 900 more to be added through the next three years under a 1966 act authorizing a 1,200-man increase in the troop complement by fiscal year 1970-71.

A class of 177 recruits now is undergoing training at the academy, a $1.5 million structure which opened for business in 1960.

The academy has graduated

1,627 state Police officers to date; 784 local police officers, and 180 State Policemen in special courses.

"In the last two years, there has been greater focus on the necessity of increasing the level of training for policemen both state and local," said Lt. Col. John I. Grosnick, State Police chief of staff.

"With these new facilities, we intend to accelerate our training at both levels."

"In addition, we hope to expand our own program to encompass specialized training areas which we have been unable to offer to date."

State Police recruits undergo a 12-week training course at the academy and then are given two more months of on-the-job field training.

Municipal officers are given an eight-week general police course, 50 per cent of it focused on criminal law and criminal investigation, with the other half involving traffic control and community relations.

The Pennsylvania State Police was the first force in the nation, Grosnick said, to begin a training program for its men, dating back to 1922. In 1935, the department was authorized to offer courses for municipal police officers.

Searchers Find Bradford Boy In State Park

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP) — Searchers found a 3-year-old boy Friday after he spent the night alone in Allegany State Park.

Kevin Doerr, of Churchville, N.Y., was found by campers in the Turner Camp area of the New York State park above the Pennsylvania line. Park police said the location was about one mile from where he had been reported missing.

Park police said the boy apparently wandered off. His parents reported him missing after he was last seen on a tennis court at a Quaker Run camp site near the community of Red House, south of Salamanca in New York.

State police and campers searched the area all night for the boy.

Officials at Bradford Hospital say Kevin is in satisfactory condition but has been admitted for observation. They said he was suffering from exposure.

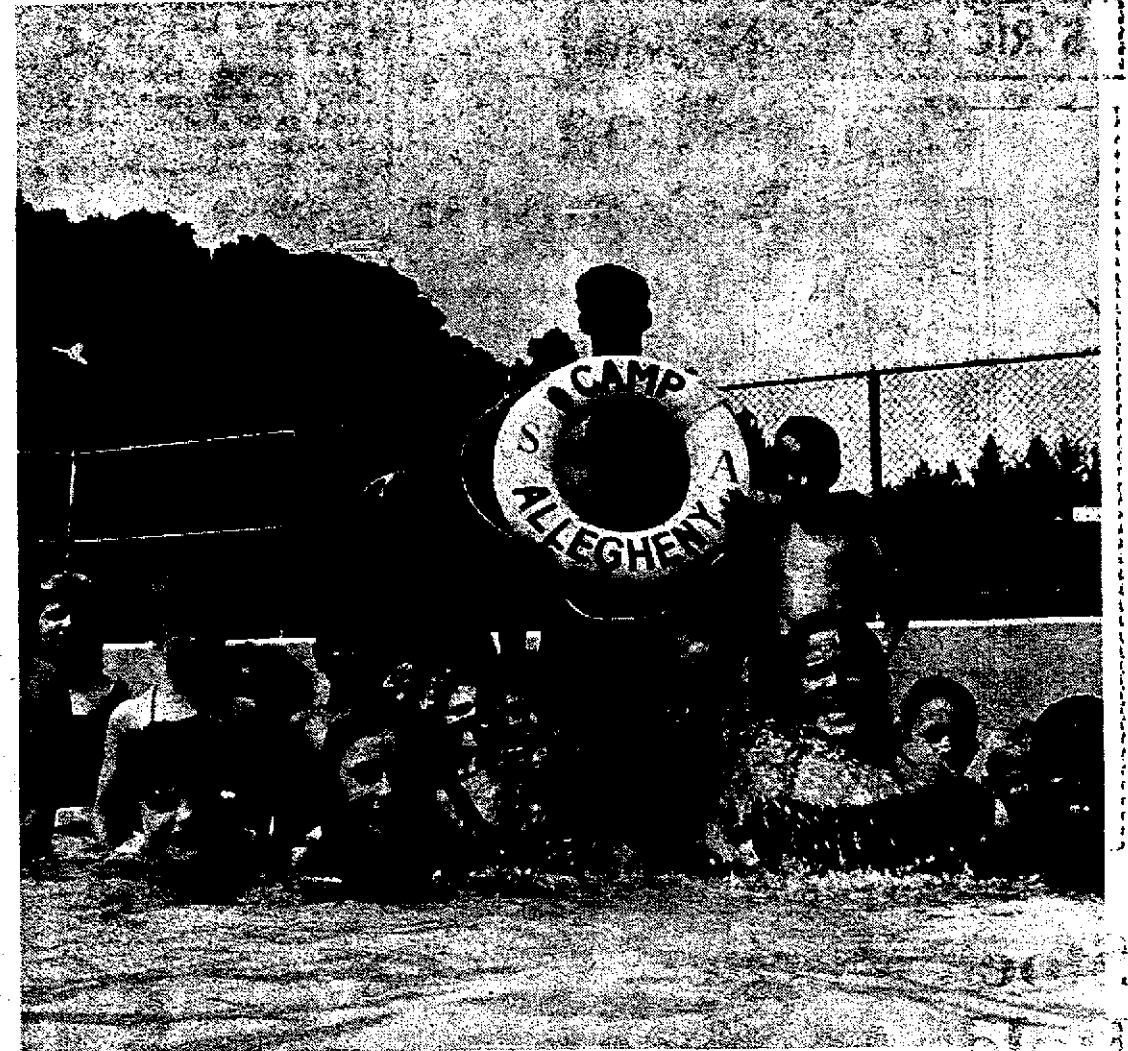

Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doerr.

Huge Vessel Shipped From Area Plant

TITUSVILLE — A 500-ton vessel, reported to be the largest piece of equipment ever to be shipped from an area plant, was taken from the Struthers Wells Titusville plant Thursday on two Penn - Central Railroad flat cars.

The vessel, destined for the Gulf Coast, was under construction at the plant for one and a half years. It will be used as a methanol container.

The actual shipping weight of the vessel, including a steel cover and internal parts, is more than 764 tons. The equipment piece is 10 5/16 inches thick with a diameter of 11 1/2 feet at one point.

CAREFREE MOMENTS

The Salvation Army Camp, Camp Allegheny, was the scene of many a fun and carefree moment for young people who attended special summer sessions. Among other activities, the kids enjoyed swimming facilities as this picture indicates. In addition to devotional periods, many other projects occupy the time. The camp this weekend will be in use by both adults and children.

Tomb of Lancaster's First U.S. Congressman Found

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The tomb, and possibly the remains, of Lancaster's first congressional representative, have been found under the educational building of a Lancaster Presbyterian Church.

The discovery of the marble tomb cover for John Wilkes Kittera, who served in Congress from 1791 to 1801, was made by the Rev. Donald C. Wilson, pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

Kittera's grave was among a number of graves over which the educational building was constructed 30 years ago.

A number of headstones stored under the building were from graves situated in other sections of the church cemetery covered as the church expanded.

Still uncovered—but a prime objective of Wilson's search — is the grave of Robert Fulton, father of the inventor of the steamboat, known to be buried in that section. The elder Fulton was a founder of the church.

Thus far, however, the Kittera gravestone has been the most important find.

A box of bones found near the Kittera grave was described by Wilson as "possibly being those of Kittera," since the above-ground tomb was the only one that had been disturbed.

When the grave was found, the cover had been partially removed. A pile of building bricks was stacked inside the tomb.

"Obviously, there is no way that they can be identified," Wilson said. "We can only speculate."

Most of the names on the tombs are well known to Lancaster historians. But there are some unfamiliar. Example:

"Samuel Van Horn, traveling salesman, son of Gen. Isaac W. of Zanesville, O., who, while traveling for his health from Bucks County back to Zanesville died in Lancaster Nov. 3, 1811 in his 19th year."

The epitaphs are many and varied. One of the most eloquent says: "A memorial of William Boys who departed this life Nov. 1843, aged 72 years. In the full hope of a glorious resurrection. He was a man of Ireland but an adopted son of America for the last 56 years. He was a kind husband and a beloved neighbor, a good citizen, a true patriot."

Vandals Hit

Fruit Stand

KANE — A produce display in front of the new Quality Market on North Frayley street here was "raided" sometime during Wednesday night with a quantity of fruit and vegetables taken, most of it smashed on the black-top parking area.

Police said several items of fruit were partially eaten and close to 50 other vegetables and fruit smashed in vicinity of the store.

and, above all, an honest man, in the noblest work of God."

It took some digging in Lancaster Historical Society files to learn details on Congressman Kittera.

Jack Loose, an authority on Lancaster history, knew of him but commented, "Oh, he was a little obscure character."

Kittera was that, but he was also a handsome man, gregarious. He lived well, died bankrupt and apparently had the good sense to marry a handsome and resourceful woman.

Records reveal that in Sept. 1783, John Kittera, age 10, "got run seven times by scoll master (schoolmaster). There's no explanation for the cryptic entry."

Henry Engle's Notes and Queries relating to Interior Pennsylvania says of Kittera:

"It is said of Kittera that he was of fine personal appearance, genial and gentlemanly in his intercourse with his fellow citizens, and particularly enjoyed the confidence and support of his earliest acquaintances in Earl, Cocalico and Caernarvon Townships. He lived in grand style, entertained largely and died a bankrupt."

"Upon his death, and the subsequent discovery that her husband had lost everything, his widow sold her dresses, jewelry and everything not essential, moved to Philadelphia, opened a little store and had her children carefully educated. She lived to enjoy a fortune thus accumulated."

Mail Deliveries Suspended Monday

There will be no mail delivery Monday due to the Labor Day holiday. Postmaster Frank A. Fago announced Friday. There will be no window service at the post office; however, regular holiday lockbox service will be maintained. Holiday schedules for collection, receipt and dispatch of mail will be observed and special delivery service will be provided.

SALVATION ARMY MEETING PLACE

Camp Allegheny at Ellwood City, Pa., which nestles in surroundings of natural beauty, is where the western Pennsylvania Division of the Salvation Army will convene during the Labor Day weekend for a series of old fashioned camp meetings. Also during the summer, young people of the Army meet for special camping sessions with several attending this year and accompanied by Capt. Albert Carter of the Warren Citadel.

Happenings Years Ago

Herbert H. Austin, 400 Fourth avenue, was the first Warren borough man to register for the draft at Warren High School. County commissioners announced that King-Keystone Roofing Company, of Warren, is low bidder for rebuilding of the roof of the main portion of the court house with work to start at once.

Ann Crossett, 12-year-old daughter of Warren Burgess and Mrs. W. F. Crossett, landed a muskie while fishing in Chautauqua Lake but had to throw it back because it measured only 27 inches, three inches under legal length. A short time later, she hooked another one which she was able to keep. It measured 32 inches.

There was a log jam of sidewalk pedestrians on Second avenue just west of Liberty when a large redwood log parked on Second. The weather-beaten section of log said to be 1,500 years old and eight feet in diameter, will remain downtown until 6 p. m.

Larry Mong, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mong, 200 Frank street, is another Warren High School graduate returning to the local teaching field this year, his assignment being fifth grade at the Lacy building.

Tigers Crush Orioles To Stay Out in Front

American

Tigers Remain in Front

DETROIT (AP) — Big Earl Wilson drove in four runs and pitched a four-hitter Friday night as the first-placed Detroit Tigers turned back challenging Baltimore 9-1 to move seven games ahead of the Orioles in the American League race.

The triumph was Detroit's third straight and fourth in five games. Baltimore, only four games out on Tuesday, now has lost three straight.

Wilson, a 6-foot-4 right-hander, slammed a three-run homer in the third inning and capped a five-run Detroit fifth inning rally with a run-scoring single.

The crowd of 53,575—largest to see a game in Tiger Stadium since 1961—gave Wilson a standing ovation after his fifth homer of the season with Bill Freehan and Tom Matchick aboard in the second inning.

Wilson, 12-11, retired the first 11 men he faced before Frank Robinson beat out an infield hit in the fourth. The lower was Tom Phoebus, 13-13.

Yanks-Indians Split

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tony Horton raced home on Max Alvis' infield roller in the 10th inning Friday night, giving the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over New York and a split of their doubleheader with the Yankees.

Fritz Peterson blanked the Indians 1-0 on four hits in the first game.

Horton led off the 10th inning of the nightcap with a single and Joe Azcue sacrificed. Jose Cardenal was walked intentionally, the runners moved up on Dooley Womack's wild pitch and Tommy Harper drew another intentional walk before Alvis grounded slowly to short and Horton beat Tom Tresh's throw to the plate.

The Indians filled the bases with nobody out in the ninth and tied it 2-2 but a double play and a fly to right snuffed out the rally.

In the opener, Peterson, 8-9, gave up a single to Brown leading off the first inning and then set the Indians down in order until Alvis blooped a single to left leading off the sixth.

Senators Win in Ninth

BOSTON (AP) — Throwing errors by Dalton Jones and Russ Gibson opened the gates to a five-run ninth inning uprising that carried the Washington Senators past the Boston Red Sox 5-1 Friday night.

Right-hander Gary Bell, given a second-inning advantage on Ken Harrelson's first home run in two weeks, took a four-hit shutout into the ninth.

But he walked pinch hitter Jim French before successive wild throws by first baseman Jones and catcher Gibson on a pair of bunts keyed the burst of five unearned Washington runs.

LATE GAME

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Rick Renick punched a leadoff double in the 11th inning and raced home on Rick Reese's one-out single, giving the Minnesota Twins a 5-4 comeback victory over the Chicago White Sox Friday night.

The Twins tied the game in the ninth on Tony Oliva's two-run triple after second baseman Sandy Alomar booted Ron Clark's two-out grounder and Frank Kostro followed with a single.

Buddy Bradford's leadoff double in the eighth—the fourth hit off Twins starter Jim Merritt—touched off a four-run burst that sent the White Sox in front 4-1.

County Averages Earlier Defeat Dump City 5-3

The Cadet County All-Stars avenged an earlier 14-1 loss to their "city cousins" last night and held out to grab a 5-3 from the Borough boys to even the series at one game apiece for the year.

Byron Baker made it possible for the County team in overpowering the opposition with a blazing fastball and wicked curve. This resulted in 13 strikeouts and a limit to foes hitting. He gave up a mere seven hits in going the distance of nine frames.

His bat had a little to say about the outcome as he drove in two runs with a single and 350-foot homer over the left-centerfield lights. He received more extra base help from Paul Gettings and Bob Graham in the fifth inning to pace a three-run rally in lifting him over the top.

In the loss starting pitcher for Warren, Tony Bona and reliever Jim Connelly made a good account of themselves in striking out twenty batsmen. Bona accounted for 13 and the latter had seven in three innings.

Warren trailed from the fifth inning down to the wire, after the three-run outburst. They managed to grab a run in the bottom of the fifth on singles by Bona and Tom Glossner and a fielder's choice.

Warren's biggest drive came in the bottom of the ninth with the bases loaded and two runs already across the plate. B was quickly squelched when Jack Jewell lined into a double play ending the game.

Scot Girl Upsets U.S. Open Tennis Champions

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) —Australian John Newcombe and Americans Marty Riessen and Clark Graebner led a solid advance of seeded men into the second round Friday and it remained for a plucky little Scot girl, Joyce Williams, to provide the upset excitement of the U.S. Open tennis championships.

Mrs. Williams, 23, wife of an English soccer writer, brought her game to a peak for a 5-7, 6-2, 6-4 triumph over seventh-seeded Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis, America's No. 2 woman amateur.

Newcombe, 1967 winner here when the tournament was all amateur and at No. 4 the highest men's seed to see action, crushed Allen Quay of South Orange, N.J., 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. Both are pros.

Riessen, a new pro who formerly teamed with Graebner in doubles, found a rugged opponent in young Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia, but finally pre-valled on an overpowering service and deadly volleying 11-9, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. Riessen is seeded 15th.

Graebner, singles ace of the current U.S. Davis Cup squad and a semifinalist at Wimbledon this year, had to produce some of his finest shotmaking in subduing Premjit Lal of India 6-3, 1-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Other survivors in the men's division included the veteran Ramanathan Krishnan of India, bearded Torben Ulrich of Denmark, 45-year-old Vic Seixas of Villanova, Pa., and Chuck McKinley of New York, the latter two ex-Wimbledon champions.

who now sell stocks and bonds. Miss Eisel, looking weary and losing her confidence in the final two sets, was the lone seeded woman player to fall.

Ann Haydon Jones of Britain, who expects to play Billie Jean King for the women's crown, turned back a good-looking and sharp-stroking 17-year-old Los Angeles schoolgirl, Pamela Teegarden, 6-3, 6-1.

Judy Tegart of Australia, Wimbledon runner-up and No. 3 seed behind Mrs. Jones, crushed Judy Dixon of Essex Fells, N.J., 6-0, 6-1. Britain's attractive Virginia Wade, No. 6, won over Stephanie De Fina of Hollywood, Fla., 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Schollander Tops Mark At Olympic Swim Trials

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Don Schollander smashed his world record for the 200-meter free style Friday with a time of 1:54.8, 54.8 seconds in preliminaries of the U.S. Men's Olympic Swimming Trials.

Schollander's mark was one of two world standards smashed in the opening program of a five-day meet at the Belmont Plaza pool.

The 22-year-old Yale senior, who won four gold medals in the 1964 Olympics at Tokyo, holds the official world mark of 1:55.7 for the 200-meter race which will be held for the first time on an Olympic program in Mexico City in October.

Versatile Charles Hickcox, an Indiana University swimmer from Phoenix, Ariz., the pending world record for the 400-meter individual medley.

The 6-foot, 3½-inch 21-year-old was timed in 4:43.3 in winning a duel against 17-year-old Gary Hall of Long Beach, Hall, whose prior 4:43.4 had been the best in the world, was clocked in 4:43.5.

Officially the world record stands at 4:45.4 by Dick Roth of Atherthon, Calif., but Greg Buckingham of the Santa Clara Swim Club has 4:45.1 in June and Hall posted his mark in July.

In the 200 free style, Schollander's top competition in his heat came from Stephen Rerych of Patterson, N.J., and John Nelson of Pompano Beach, Fla., timed in 1:57.35 and 1:57.42 respectively.

Schollander, an Oregonian who swims with the Santa Clara club, was timed in 27.4 for the first 50 meters, 56.3 at 100 and 1:25.4 for 150. In the final 50, the blond speedster pulled away from his foes to win by two lengths.

Doug Russell of Arlington, Texas, posted the fastest 100-meter butterfly qualifying time. The 22-year-old who lists herding cattle as his favorite pastime, swam 55.99 with world record holder Mark Spitz of Santa Clara second at 56.43. Spitz holds the world record of 55.7 for this event, which has been added to the Olympic program.

Thirteen of the 37 in the qualifying races for the medley, which includes 100 meters each of the butterfly, backstroke, breast stroke and freestyle, broke 4:50 with only the fastest eight qualifying for Friday night's finals. In the 1964 Olympic games, only three swimmers broke 4:50.

Three from each of the final races qualify for the U. S. Olympic squad.

Steelers-Packers Clash In 'Must Win' Contest

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers and the Pittsburgh Steelers meet in Milwaukee County Stadium Saturday night in a National Football League pre-season exhibition. For both, the game almost is in the must win category.

Green Bay handed its new head coach, Phil Bengtson, his first victory over a Professional foe last weekend when the Packers crushed Dallas 31-27. The victory raised Green Bay's preseason record to 2-2, and Bengtson is most anxious to keep the winning habit.

Pittsburgh, decimated by injuries, was a 19-3 loser last Sunday to the American Football League's Cincinnati Bengals—pro football's newest entry.

"We didn't block anybody, we didn't tackle anybody, we didn't cover anybody," Steeler mentor

Bill Austin said of the Cincinnati loss.

Austin will have to go to the bench to replace split end J.R. Wilburn, out with a broken hand; flanker Roy Jefferson, hamstring pull; halfback Don Shy, knee problems; and line-backer Bill Saul, also a knee injury.

Green Bay's wounded are rapidly returning to the line-up. Both Henry Jordan and Ron Kostelnik started against Dallas after missing two games.

Running back Elijah Pitts was running well in practice Thursday and may see action, Bengtson said. Donny Anderson will definitely start.

Reserve defensive lineman Jim Weatherwax sat out the Cowboy game and could be ready this weekend.

Johnsonburg Labor Day Slates All-Pro Boxing

The first all-pro sanctioned boxing card to ever be held in this area will get underway at Memorial Field in Johnsonburg on Labor Day.

Scheduled to appear on the card is the well-known Johnny Bizzarro, formerly of Erie and now of Ridgway.

Johnny will box LeRoy Youngblood of Charleroi. Both boys are shooting for a crack at Carlos Cruz, the present lightweight champion of the world.

The fights are sanctioned by the Pittsburgh District of the State Athletic Commission and Leo Porco, the deputy commissioner from Pittsburgh will be at the fights on Labor Day night.

Sanctioned officials, time-keepers, judges and announcer will come out of the Pittsburgh District.

Also appearing on the card will be Lou Bizzarro, Johnny's younger brother, who will meet Skip Jackson of Akron, O. in a 4 round middleweight class bout.

Chuck Spencer of Cleveland will fight Johnny North of Cincinnati in a six round bantam-weight bout.

Gil King of Akron will box Bobby Watkins of Fairmont, W. Va. in a 4 round lightweight class.

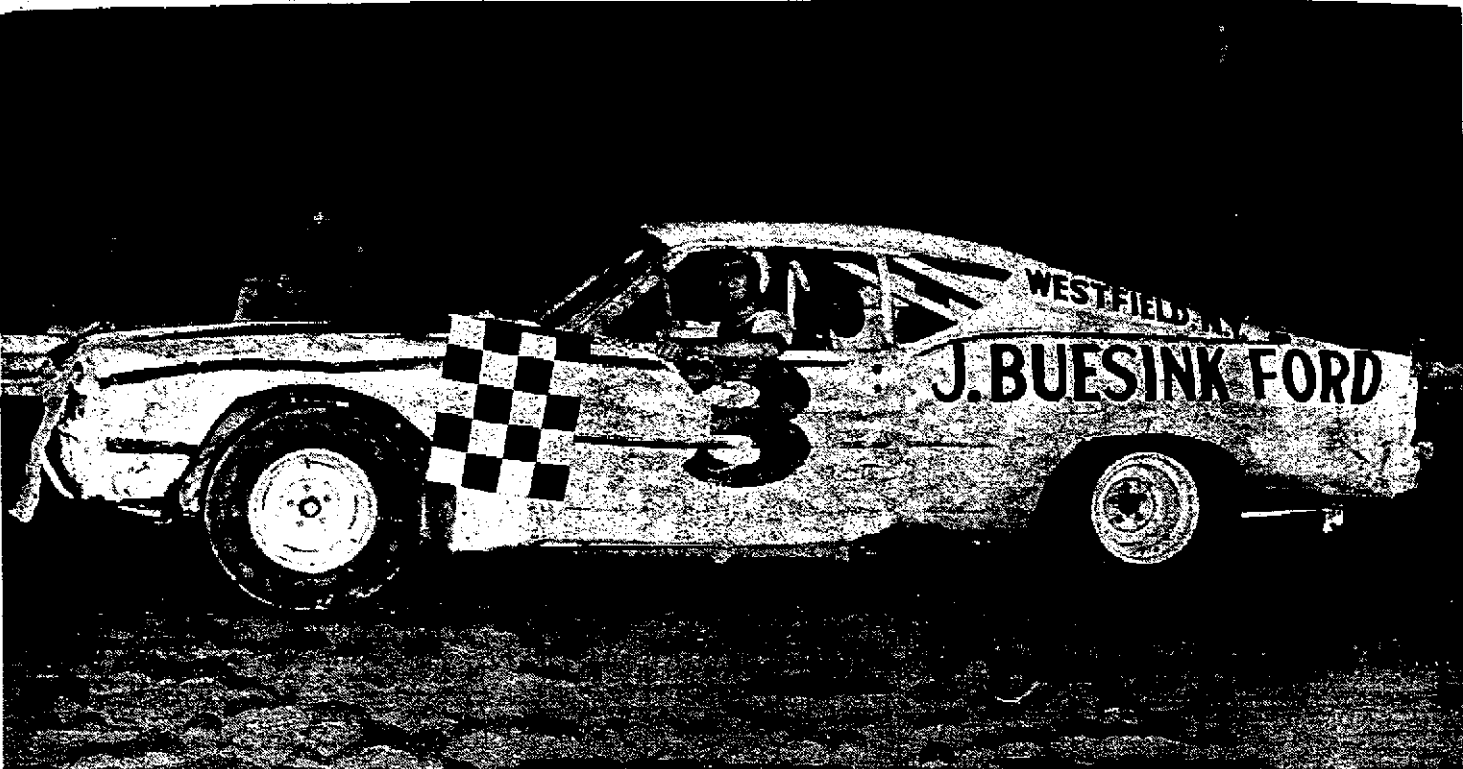

Youngblood, who sports a 13 won, 9 lost and 1 draw record claims to be in excellent shape and will send Johnny Bizzarro back into retirement on Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Bizzarro, who is trying to comeback, would like nothing better than to start his comeback career with a knockout over the younger Youngblood.

Both boys expect to enter the ring at about 140 pounds. The official weigh-in will be held at Memorial Field at 2:00 in the afternoon.

Tickets will be available at the gate and the doors will open at 6 o'clock. The fights will start at 7:30 p.m.

One and possibly two other bouts will be presented depending upon last minute arrangements by Boxing Promoter Don Elbaum of Erie.

'SCOTTIE' IS TOP CONTENDER

Jim Scott of Garland, Scottie, is top contender in Stateline Speedway's 1968 Grand Championship Race this evening. After facing hard luck in a near win in 1964, Scott has come a long way and will be out to challenge last year's winner Freddie Knapp and other top runners Bob Schnars and Squirt Johns. Scott's No. 3 for 1968 is a brand new Ford Torino and has really been moving this season.

Stateline '68 Championship Race Heated Battle Tonight

Stateline Speedway will be able to display what has made them the area's top track this evening, Saturday, as the checkered flag is dropped for the 100-lap Grand Championship race offering a $5,000 purse. The race is the richest of the season and one of the most important as the drivers battle for the money and the extra points that ride on this event.

Top contenders, and running high in points, will be Jim Scott, Bob Schnars, Fred Knapp, Johnny Whitehead and Squirt Johns. Fred Knapp picked up the Grand Championship trophy in 65 and 66 while Squirt Johns boasts last year's checkered flag win.

Four years ago Jim Scott won the 100-lap race at Stateline, or at least that's the way he feels about it.

The truth actually is, that after a tedious process of checking and rechecking the score sheets, Stateline officials awarded the 1964 Grand Championship trophy to another driver, Chuck Piazza, three hours after they had mistakenly waved the checkered flag at Scott, designating him as the race winner.

"I still recall that night, all too vividly," he says with a trace of resentment still in his voice. "I ran into the first turn fence and sat there for what I felt was only one lap before I got going again. The scorers said I lost two laps. That one lap difference cost me the victory which I still think I earned."

Although it was more than four years ago, that one race, which would have been his first feature win in the New Car division, still has a marked effect on him.

"That 1964 race makes us want to win this Saturday's 100-lapper all the more," Scott says. "And this is the first year we have had the equipment to really go after it."

Scott's equipment happens to be Julian Buesink's 1968 Ford Torino, which is one of the winningest New Cars on the circuit today, especially in the long distance races. He has already won the richest race of the 1968 season, the "Erie 157" and Stateline's Mid-Season Championship plus a 25-lap feature at Erie.

"Scottie," so called by his friends, is a native of Garland,

As for his strategy for Saturday's $5,000 Grand Championship purse, "It's simple," he states, "just stand on it and keep turning to the left."

Stateline, which has been rained out the past two Saturday nights, has set September 7, a week from tonight, as the rain date for tonight's program. If weather conditions allow for the completion of the program tonight, the Dean Layfield Memorial Race will be held September 7. Race time is 8:30 for tonight's 14-event program.

Harry 'Bud' Jeannette Sues NBA for Damages

BALTIMORE (AP) — Harry "Buddy" Jeannette, deposed general manager of the Baltimore Bullets, sued the National Basketball Association club and owner Abe Pollin today for $613,125 in damages.

The suit, filed in Baltimore City Superior Court, sought—$13,125 from the Bullets for alleged breach of contract.

—$200,000 from both the Bullets and Pollin for alleged "false and malicious statements" made by Pollin which the suit contended were defamatory per se.

—$100,000 from each defendant for alleged intentional interference with Jeannette's contractual rights.

Jeannette, 51, served as coach of the Bullets during the 1964-65 season, and the following year became general manager. He served in that post until last Aug. 4.

On that date, the suit said, Pollin asked Jeannette to resign during a discussion in Pollin's Bethesda, Md., home and Jeannette refused.

Before Jeannette returned to Baltimore, the suit said, Pollin released a statement to the news media "to the effect that the plaintiff was fired."

The suit, contending the Bullets "arbitrarily and capriciously" breached its employment contract with Jeannette, asked for $13,125 damages representing alleged unpaid wages.

Jeannette was serving without a written contract, which the suit said the Bullets failed to provide despite his request, and he based the start of his employment year at May 1, 1967, when he received a $3,500 pay boost to $17,500.

Westchester Classic the week before.

"I could have played better, I could have played worse," said the former National Amateur and National Collegiate champion.

He birdied the seventh, eighth and ninth holes from five, 10 and 20 feet for an outgoing 33, and came home in 35 with a birdie on the par 11th.

He also had a bogey, when he was in a trip on No. 3, but got it back when he pitched to within four inches of the cup for an easy bird on the fourth.

He had a two-stroke lead over a group of 12 knotted at that figure.

Among the huge group who took two-under 70s on the 7,035-yard Upper Montclair Country Club course were Billy Casper, the season's leading money-winner, British Open champion Gary Player and Australian veteran Bruce Crampton.

The others were rookie Jerry Abbott, Steve Reid, Romero Blancas, Dudley Wyson, Bert Weaver, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Mason Rudolph, Lee Elder and Lou Graham.

Pre-tourney favorite Jack Nicklaus was over at 73—"I just played lousy"—despite an eagle three.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer had 71, putting him in another huge group. "I had 33 putts out there," Palmer said. "I'd putted a little better it could have been a much better round."

Atlanta, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Journal said Friday Braves catcher Joe Torre has denied a rumor he will ask to be traded during the off season to the New York Mets, who once offered a reported $2.5 million for his services.

"I'm happy with this club," said Torre in denying the reports in Philadelphia, where the team is on a road trip. "I'm not happy with the way I'm playing, but I'm happy with this club," he was quoted by Wilt Browning.

Torre Denies Rumors of Big Trade

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Journal said Friday Braves catcher Joe Torre has denied a rumor he will ask to be traded during the off season to the New York Mets, who once offered a reported $2.5 million for his services.

"I'm happy with this club," said Torre in denying the reports in Philadelphia, where the team is on a road trip. "I'm not happy with the way I'm playing, but I'm happy with this club," he was quoted by Wilt Browning.

Fleisher Two Strokes Ahead in U.S. Amateur

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Scrambling Bruce Fleisher birdied two of his last four holes on the way to a one-over-par 71 Friday and stormed into a two-stroke lead after three rounds in the 68th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

The 19-year-old junior college student from Haleah, Fla., was four under par through 54 holes with a 214 total and in excellent position to capture the coveted national crown in his first try.

His closest rival in the field of 62 was Huble Green, the Alabama Amateur king who share the halfway lead with Fleisher. Bob Barbarossa of Osseo, Minn., a 20-year-old University of Houston student who shot an even par 70, was three back at 217.

The crew cut Fleisher, a sophomore at Miami Dade North Junior College, found himself two back of Green after he suffered a double bogey on the second hole. He hit into the left bunker and needed two to get out before finally holing out.

The 6-foot-3, 187-pound athlete who pitched in high school, also bogeyed No. 6 when he trapped his third shot but got that stroke back with a bird on No. 7 when he rolled in a 15-foot putt.

Fleisher bogeyed 14 when he was in the right bunker but promptly rang up birds with putts of 12 and 25 feet on Nos. 15 and 16.

Young Miami Dolphins Enter Third Year of Play

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Coach George Wilson hopes his nice young Miami Dolphins can turn what looks like adversity to its advantage.

The adversity is the first four games on the Dolphins schedule, Miami, seeking in its third year in the American Football League to improve on its 4-10 record, must play Houston, Oakland, Kansas City and Houston against the start of the season.

Houston is the defending Eastern Division champion, Oakland the defending league champion and Kansas City the runner-up to Oakland in the west last year.

"That's a rough way to start out," Wilson said, "but if we can win a share of the games, it would give our players a lift."

Last year the Dolphins won only one of the first nine games, then turned around and won three of the last five.

That was an indication of the development of such players as quarterback Bob Griese, split end Jack Clancy, halfback Jack Harper and guard Charlie Fowler, all rookies, and fullback Stan Mitchell and flanker Howard Twilley, who were in their second year.

Griese finished as the league's fifth leading passer, and Clancy wound up as the third top pass receiver.

The 21-year-old Green drilled in a 12-foot birdie putt on 18 to finish with a 73 and stay in hot contention.

Biggest surprise of the day was the 75 turned by in British amateur titlist Michael Bonalack, whose round included five bogeys and no birds. The 33-year-old Englishman was deadlocked for fifth place with John Birmingham, a 28-year-old Pittsburgh dairyman, who caused a stir with a hot 69, the first sub par round of the tournament.

Once again, the treacherous par 70, 6,762-yard Scioto Country Club layout beat back the barrage of most of the big siege guns.

Jack Lewis, the 21-year-old Wake Forest student who tied for third in the 1966 U.S. amateur, was alone in fourth place after firing the day's second 70 for a 218.

In seventh place after a 73 was Marvin Giles, the Charlottesville, Va., law student and the runner-up in the 1967 National. He was in at 220.

Deadlocked at 221, seven strokes behind Fleisher, were John Behnamm, Sequia, Tex.; veteran Dale Morey, High Point, N.C.; Jerry Courville, South Norwalk, Conn.; Allen Miller III, Pensacola, Fla.; Joseph Inman Jr., Greensboro, N.C.; and Robert Greenwood Jr., Cookeville, Tenn.

Locked at 225 were Tom Watson, Kansas City; Rik Massengale, Austin Tex., and Rodney Carl, the Lee Trevino-look alike from Redding, Calif.

U.S. Paris Diplomats Express Hope For More Productive Peace Talks

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
PARIS — There is an air of cautious hope among United States diplomats here that, with the American political conventions over, the next period of negotiating here with North Vietnam may be more productive than the sterile meetings of the past month.

Such hopes, which officials conceded are purely speculative and tentative, are based primarily on the assumption that North Vietnam will now conclude that it will not get substantially better terms from President Johnson's successor than from the present administrator.

The North Vietnamese, however, assert privately that the nomination of Vice President Humphrey by the democratic party as its presidential candidate has changed nothing here.

South North Vietnamese sources say they expect "nothing will happen here" between now and January, when a new American president will be inaugurated. And they look to the military and political combat in South Vietnam as the major testing ground in the immediate future.

They state that their hopes for progress hinge on the possibility that Johnson might call off the bombing of North Vietnam just before the November election "in an attempt to insure that the Democratic Party retains the presidency."

The American camp is also on the lookout for some windfall from the other side, without giving hint of new flexibility from Washington.

With both Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee, espousing policies and running on party platforms that closely parallel the Johnson administration policy, allied diplomats speculate that it would be reasonable to expect Hanoi to "make one more try" to get concessions from Johnson by offering something itself.

Before the Democratic Convention, the North Vietnamese leaders sent back to Paris one of their inner circle, Le Duc Tho, a member of the politburo of the Communist Party. There was wide speculation at the time among American and allied diplomats that his arrival might signal the completion of a strategy review by Hanoi.

It was thought, though there has been no indication of this from the North Vietnamese, that Tho might have brought back new negotiating instructions to be used after the results of the Democratic convention were known.

Before the convention, it was the assumption of U.S. officials that Hanoi was unlikely make any negotiating concession as long as Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, advocating an end to the bombing and a coalition government, had a chance to win the nomination.

"Now, at least they know there won't be any Mendes-France," said one American official. He was referring to the French Premier Mendes-France who took office on June 18, 1954 with the pledge that he would end the Indochina War by July 20.

In private conversations, North Vietnamese had said they did not expect McCarthy to win.

But they apparently were encouraged by some French and Communist contacts and American war critics to hope that his bid for the nomination and the ensuing struggle might push Humphrey into more liberal positions on Vietnam or persuade Johnson to make some gesture, such as stopping the bombing, to help Humphrey's candidacy along.

The battle over the Democratic platform proposed by the doves was an encouraging sign to the North Vietnamese. But by then, they seemed resigned to Humphrey's nomination and a Vietnam plank that would stray little from the Johnson line.

The result has been that Nguyen Thanh Le, the spokesman for Hanoi's negotiating team here, has dismissed Humphrey and the Democratic platform almost as swiftly and sternly as he denounced Nixon and the Republican platform.

And privately, the North Vietnamese and Communists close to them suggest that the Republican nominee may be more flexible in negotiations next year than Humphrey.

Antiwar Demonstrators Begin Leaving Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Antiwar demonstrators whose confrontation with police and National Guardsmen shared the stage with the Democratic Party's nomination of a presidential candidate began drifting out of Chicago Friday.

But an early morning police raid in the Conrad Hilton hotel continued the smoldering dissent between lawmen and peace advocates. A leader of the demonstrators added more charges of excessive police action Friday and also announced the demonstrations have ended.

A meeting Friday afternoon in Grant Park, scheduled to discuss the police actions of the week, drew only 100 persons, most of whom were conventionally dressed. The bandshell area where thousands rallied Wednesday virtually was deserted. Guardsmen withdrew from the entire downtown area and the occasional policeman wore a soft hat rather than the hard blue helmet.

Street sweepers clearing the remaining debris from Michigan Avenue, Chicago's showplace boulevard which became a front line of battle Wednesday and Thursday, brushed up lingering clouds of tear gas which quickly dissipated.

Police said Friday that 583 persons were arrested during the disturbances this week and most of them were free on bond.

Jerry Rubin, 25, of New York City, a spokesman for the Yippies (Youth International Party) was released Friday on a $25,000 bond. He was arrested Wednesday and charged with disorderly conduct, solicitation of mob action and resisting arrest.

Friday morning's confrontation between police and supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy occurred after empty beer cans, glasses and smoked fish were dropped from the Hilton onto guardsmen patrolling Michigan Avenue.

Police swarmed over the 15th floor, clubbed three persons and chased about 50 of "McCarthy's kids" down to the lobby, charging that the youths were not registered in the hotel.

Four policemen were injured in the fracas, two of them allegedly struck in the eyes by thrown lyte. All four were treated and released from a hospital.

The ousted youths sat in the lobby singing "We Shall Overcome" until McCarthy and his top aides vouched for them. There were no arrests made.

A McCarthy aide, Richard N. Goodwin, said the raid "was in retaliation for the role we played in the defamation of Mayor (Richard J.) Daley this week."

A police lieutenant said one of his men was on the 15th floor when the trash barrage began. The policeman said that a youth in room 1548 admitted tossing debris from his window.

The lieutenant added: "McCarthy people are liars from the word go."

County's Police Included Under Retirement Law

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)
HARRISBURG — Warren County's six boroughs and 22 townships now are in position to provide their policemen with a retirement program if they don't already have one, according to legislation now signed into law by the Governor.

Under the new act a "Municipal Employees' Retirement Board" is to be established on the state level to administer the program. Commented Governor Shafer as he signed the legislation into law: "We entrust our law officers with a very special set of responsibilities. They deserve the benefits of a well-planned retirement system. With this bill, we now have an established procedure by which the municipalities can provide their policemen with a retirement plan if they don't already have one."

Under the measure, if a retirement plan already exists, the municipality (borough or township) may join the state system only if 75 per cent of the plan's members want it. Individual policemen will make regular contributions. At age 55 they will receive retirement benefits based upon the last five years' salaries.

Some of the specifics of the new program:

—If a municipality elects to join the retirement system then each policeman is required to become a member;

—Full credit is to be given to each original member for each year of service to the municipality prior to joining the system;

—Full credit is to be given those members called to military duty;

—The amount of contribution of individual members is to be computed by the Board actuary but the law specifies that, "the member shall not be required to contribute more than eight per cent of his salary or compensation";

—Should a contributor die while in service his accumulated deductions are to be paid to his estate, or to such person if living, as may have been designated in writing to the board as his beneficiary.

SYLVIA PORTER

Pay Scales

The personal secretary of the Chicago industrialist who has booked a party for the Democratic convention delegates this week gets a going pay of $132.50. The No. 1 secretary of the Miami businessman who played a similar role for the Republicans early this month got a going pay of $115. If either follows her boss to Washington this fall, she'll find the going rate is $135.

The office boy running coffee and Danish for the Democrats assembled in Chicago is getting $77.50. His counterpart in Miami got $65.50. If either follows his boss to Washington after Nov. 5, he'll find the going rate is $76.50. So the pay scales range for office workers, male and female, skilled and unskilled, across the nation. Major differentials continue from region to region and persist to a surprising degree even in cities fairly close to each other. Paychecks are climbing from coast to coast. Average increases in the past 18-24 months in metropolitan areas have been the highest since the Bureau of Labor Statistics began measuring national trends in February 1961. But while the direction of paychecks is obvious, the differences between occupations and areas constitute a fascinating crazy quilt.

First, some fundamental generalities: You'll find office pay highest in public utilities, lowest in retail trade. You'll earn the most money in either Detroit or San Francisco-Oakland, the least in the south. Your most favorable pay opportunities will be in areas of more than 1 million population, the least favorable in areas of under 250,000 inhabitants. You'll work the fewest hours in metropolitan New York. Now, some key specifics:

+ The average pay for personal secretaries of highest-ranking corporation officials is $128.50 and for secretaries at lower levels, $100.50. But there is an extraordinary variation according to industry. A Class "A" secretary in a public utility averages $141 against only $111.50 in retail trade; a Class "B" secretary in a public utility averages more than a Class A secretary in wholesale trade, retail trade and finance.

+ Assuming 100 as a national base, office pay scales in the west come out to 107 per cent; in the north central region, to 101 per cent; in the northeast, to 99; in the south, to 94. Assuming 100 as a base pay, the average in public utilities is 108 per cent; in manufacturing, 104 per cent; whole-sale trade, 100; services, 99; finance, 93; retail trade, 90. Area averages for office clerical workers range from 82 per cent of the national average in San Antonio to 115 per cent in Detroit; averages for skilled maintenance workers range from 72 per cent in Greenville, S.C., to 113 per cent in San Francisco-Oakland; and for unskilled workers, from 63 in San Antonio to 124 per cent in San Francisco-Oakland.

+ Pay scales in the south are catching up but all areas below 80 per cent of the national average are in the south.

+ While office worker earnings in the New York metropolitan area are only 4 per cent above the national average, the BLS points out that New York would have rated considerably higher had earnings been figured on an hourly instead of a weekly basis. Nationally, only 36 per cent of office workers work less than 40 hours a week but in metropolitan New York (with about a seventh of the nation's office workers) 84 per cent work less than 40 hours and about a half work 35 hours.

+ Work-weeks in the finance, insurance and real estate industries average 38 hours against 39-39.50 hours in other occupations.

Here are selected going rates for women office workers in the three cities in the news this month, as compiled by the Department of Labor.

Job	Miami	Chicago	Washington
Secretary "A"	$115.00	$132.50	$135.00
Switchboard operator	$94.00	$100.00	$95.00
Payroll clerk	$86.50	$100.00	$99.50
Typist "A"	$87.50	$91.50	$95.00
Key punch operator	$87.50	$98.00	$97.50
Industrial nurse	$119.50	$121.50	$117.50

THE Ecological Concept

The four-syllable word "ecology" is rarely heard in daily speech, even though it should be a household word by now. In fact many people have never even heard of the term, and of those who might admit some familiarity with it, not many can define it. With this sorry state of affairs prevailing, is there any wonder that so few Americans apply the ecological concept in their daily living?

According to Webster, ecology is "the branch of biology that deals with the relation between living organisms and their environment." With out the ecological concept in his makeup, modern man stands aloof from other forms of life on this planet. He becomes arrogant and self-satisfied over his accomplishments in taming nature. He subscribes to the false belief that other forms of life should be subservient to him. He applies the "good guy" and "bad guy" concept to animal life. This leaves him free to kill with impunity the "bad guys" such as the coyote, the mountain lion, the fox, and the timber wolf. In so doing, he gives no thought to the place these animals occupied for thousands of years in their respective ecological niches.

In his highly mechanized farming, he seldom allows any place for the hedgerows that half-a-century ago separated fields and meadows in rural America and provided a refuge for songbirds, insects, and small mammals. In a flight over rural England today one can still look down upon a mosaic pattern of hedgerows that has not changed for centuries.

The lack of the ecological concept has given rise to a mania for covering over vast areas of America with concrete, brick and asphalt. It gives the bulldozer operator a free hand to topple trees and push earth around to create the sterile landscape that is the setting for row upon row of new "cracker box" housing for creeping suburbia.

The fly swatter has been replaced by the pressure can of insecticide in the home. And the widespread use of insecticides on farmlands and orchards has helped to temporarily refute Malthus' theory that human populations tend to out-run their food supply. But in the haphazard use of insecticides too many of the "good guys" in the insect population are killed along with the "bad guys."

The utter lack of the ecological concept in the thinking of most of the population in America is reflected in our polluted waters, atmospheric pollution, which makes the very air we breathe a sewer for a fantastic array of by-products from combustion - eroded farm and pasture lands, over-browsed deer ranges, and environmental pollution that can make a mockery of the natural environment so essential to a beautiful landscape.

The human population explosion is a reality, and not a figment of some alarmist's imagination. Man has no more inherent right to overpopulate the globe than a swarm of lemmings or a batch of fruit flies. Starvation, predation and disease were the classic ecological controls that kept primitive man within bounds. Now, except in the most backward countries, these checks have been largely removed.

In this computer age, technology is supposed to solve all our problems and I suppose make the ecological concept obsolete. But back in the 17th Century, Francis Bacon warned the peoples of the world that "We cannot command nature except by obeying her." I think this warning is even more relevant today despite our much-vaunted technology.

Wanderings

THE AUTUMN SEASON FOR THE BPW (Business and Professional Women's Club) is getting off to a most interesting start this year, according to Helen Olson, publicity chairman. Tuesday, September 10th, members of the international organization's local chapter will gather for dinner at the YWCA, after which a program of Vietnam color slides will be shown by John Lyon who will also make comment on the scenes shown. Mr. Lyon was in Vietnam with the U.S. Army for nine months. The evening will begin at 6 o'clock when dinner will be served. Cancellations for standing reservations should be made as usual.

ANOTHER VISITOR TO RINGLING MUSEUMS in Sarasota, Florida, has been Mrs. Nellie Beckenbach of 624 Henry street. The museums are said to be among the foremost cultural centers in southeastern United States and are situated on 68 tropically landscaped acres, the gift of John Ringling to the State of Florida. In case you're going down that way there is a Museum of Art, famed for its collection of Baroque art; the Asolo Theater, the only original 18th century Italian theater in America; the fabulous Ringling residence called "Ca'd 'Zan," and, the Ringling Museum of the Circus.

LONG POINT STATE PARK on Chautauqua Lake was the scene of the 30th reunion of the Pasco Family this past Sunday. Twenty-five members of the family were present for the dinner which was served at 2:30. Ruth Dickey presided at the business meeting which saw the same officers re-elected: Ruth Dickey, president; Carol Pangborn, vice president; Neva Carnahan, secretary and treasurer. Next year's reunion will be held at the Joseph Schuyler residence on the 3rd Sunday in June. One special note . . . One member of the family, Gary R. Pasco, son of the Robert Pascos of Kiantone, N.Y., was home from Vietnam and among those present. Other guests attended from Russell, Sugar Grove, Warren and also Kiantone. Swimming and games completed the program for the day.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You recently published a letter from a woman who said she would rather starve to death than return to housework. The gal listed several complaints -- principally the extra things she had to do which were NOT housework, such as wash the car, repair the plumbing, shampoo the dog, mow the lawn, shovel the snow and so on. You were most sympathetic and invited your readers to present "the other side of the story -- if there is one."

Well, there is one, and here it is.

Two years ago I went to the expense of bringing a so-called housekeeper over here from another country. Within 60 days, she had boiled the plastic egg timer with the eggs, tried to straighten the curved grapefruit knife with my pliers, put the rubber bathtub mat in the clothes dryer and ruined the motor, boiled a leg of lamb in deep water IN THE OVEN, and polished my silver service with steel wool. I could go on, but I think you have the picture.

Thanks in advance for printing the "other side." --EASIER TO DO IT MYSELF

DEAR EASIER: Yes, and cheaper, too. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a mother of three active children and I seem to be working my tail off from morning till night. I am not complaining. I love my husband, my kids and my home. The problem is my sister-in-law.

Lizette has three children whose ages are the same as mine--all under five. Four days a week Lizette drops her kids off at my house while she does charity work and gets her picture in the paper for being on this committee and that committee.

I think it is wonderful that Lizette is interested in community affairs, but I feel she is taking advantage of me. Not only do I bathe, feed and care for her kids, but she hands me her grocery list and says, "While you're getting your groceries, please get mine."

What do you think of this? --LIZETTE'S PATSY

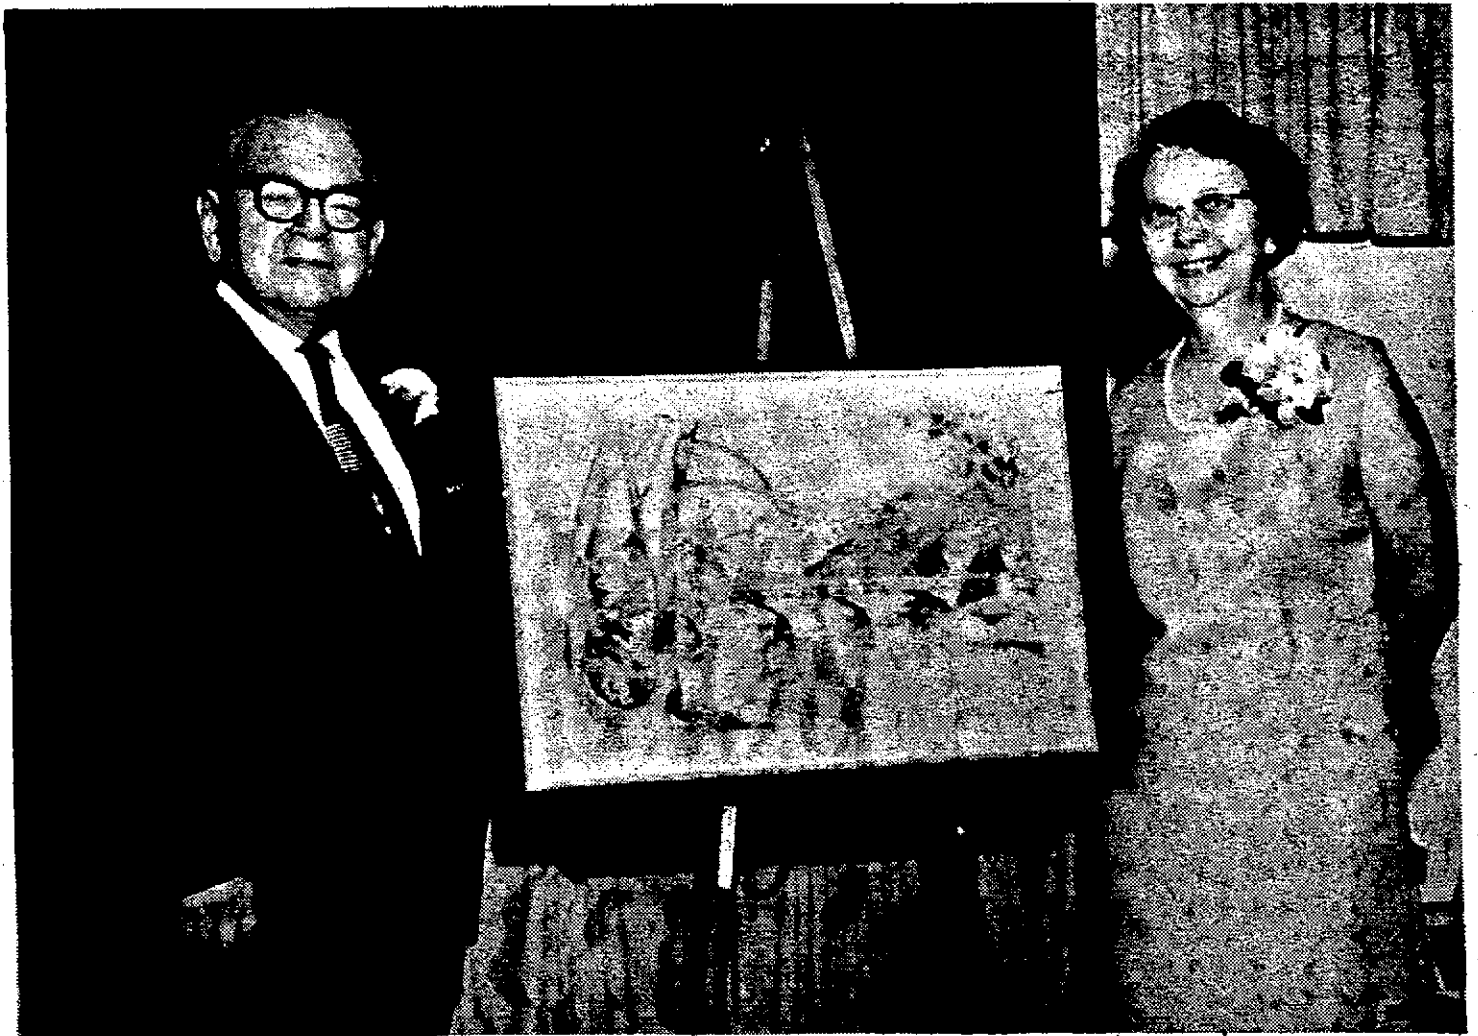

DEAR PATSY: I think Lizette has found herself a free babysitter, grocery shopper and all-around chump. But the question isn't what I think, it's what you think, and apparently you think it's fine or you'd have done something about it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I married an immature, hot-tempered, lazy, lying scoundrel against the advice of my family, friends, my clergyman, and you. After six months of hellish fighting and being called every name under the sun I told him, (through the bandages) that I wanted a trial separation -- three months.

The three months were over last week. I realize now that I must have been crazy to have married that loon and crazier still to have put up with his cruelty. I am filing for divorce tomorrow.

The question: Should I return the wedding gifts? Some of them are still in the boxes. ----- ALIVE AT LAST

DEAR ALIVE: The wedding gifts belong to the wife unless she makes a special agreement with her husband as part of the divorce settlement.

J. F. CRANES RECEIVE MEMENTO OF WARREN

DR. AND MRS. J. F. CRANE AND PAINTING At the farewell reception held on a recent Sunday afternoon honoring Dr. J. F. Crane and Mrs. Crane of North Warren, the Women's Association of the United Presbyterian Church, hostesses for the affair, presented them with a lovely wash drawing of the Hickory Street Bridge by the artist, Elizabeth Schmitt McClain of Warren. This will not only be a reminder to the Cranes of the beauties of Warren, but also of the well-worn route faithfully followed down through the years by Dr. Crane on his way to and from Warren General Hospital. The Cranes will be living in Clermont, Florida, in retirement and not too far from their two sons, Dr. Richard E. Crane, and Dr. James D. Crane. Besides the members of the church, the farewell reception was attended by great numbers of friends and neighbors. (Photo by Stokes)

Area Girl Scouts Join Others In Week's Camping

Nine girls from Warren, Youngsville and Pittsfield joined about 200 Cadettes from all over Penn Lakes Girl Scout Council to enjoy an encampment this week at Camp Hawthorne Ridge, near Fairview, Pennsylvania.

Although this has been an annual event in the Erie Area, this is the first time girls from Crawford, Forest, Mercer and Warren Counties have been invited.

Program activities have included folk dancing, crafts, outdoor games and all camp-fire programs. Many Senior Girl Scouts are serving as aides.

Attending from Youngsville have been Bobbi Miller, Diane Pearson, Robbin Dininny, Troop 28; from Pittsfield is Linda Nelson, Troop 28; and from Warren, Jean Buerkle, Karen Kuhs, Fran Neely, Carol Kramer and Marjorie Robinson, Troop 238; sponsored by First Lutheran Church, Ruth Bible Class.

Grange News

Brokenstraw Grange No. 407 heard reports of its participation in the Youngsville-Warren County Fair recently and appreciation expressed for work done by Archie Brittain and James Teonchuk. Brokenstraw received recognition for 5th place. Those present at the meeting also learned that Mrs. Pearl Roberts received 3rd Prize and ribbon at the Pomona Grange judging.

A meeting of officers will take place on Tuesday evening, September 3, at 8 o'clock when plans will be made for the 6:30 p.m. tureen supper for the next regular meeting on September 10 at which time officers will be elected for the new year.

The literary program, in charge of Lecturer Ruth Jameson, was on education and each member at Roll Call responded by recalling a memorable event of their school days. A skit was given, called "A College Education" parts were played by Archie Hollabaugh, Marian Hollabaugh and Robert Jameson. Eva Warner gave a Miss Schnell graduated from Youngsville High School Class of 1965.

While at Shadyside Hospital School of Nursing she was vice-president of the Junior Class, Prom Committee chairman, a member of the Student Council, SNAP and the Choral Club.

Pomona has called a special meeting, it was announced, for conferring the Fifth Degree on October 12 at 8 p.m. in the Brokenstraw Grange Hall.

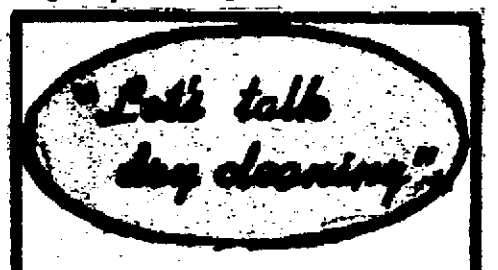

Warren Grange No. 1025 meets this Tuesday evening at 6:30 for a tureen dinner, followed at 8 p.m. with an election of officers. The nomination of officers was made at a previous meeting on August 19. Members are asked to notice the change of date from Monday to Tuesday of next week. Each member is to bring a tureen and table service.

ceive a Bachelor of Business Administration.

From Warren, Terry David Rich, of 216 Main avenue, who also will receive a Bachelor of Business Administration.

Nancy Katherine Niederer, 50 North State street, North Warren, was one of the 104 students graduating from the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing in Philadelphia, this past Wednesday.

The bells are ringing -- school bells, that is. The long summer vacation lies behind and once again it's the time of year when all of us who drive should start taking a little extra care when driving near a school zone.

For the average Mom getting ready for school days is a hectic period. It means getting slacks and skirts, sweaters and blouses, jackets and coats all ready for wearing. We can take a lot of strain out of these preparations. Just send us that junior wardrobe now and we'll have it back to you, clean and fresh and smart looking, in time for school day wear.

As every parent knows, children aren't exactly easy on clothes. Scuffles and squabbles, games and accidents take their toll. Spilled ink and paints and many other hazards put spots before your eyes. Lost buttons and little tears in the fabric and grass stains from an impromptu football game -- all these are part of the normal pattern.

Well, that's where we come in. Repairing and cleaning, removing spots and stains, restoring crispness and freshness to school-age wardrobes is part of our business.

(Pease Studio)

Mesarch - Kucharski Nuptials Solemnized In Meadville

A lovely summer wedding with bouquets of white carnations and white gladioli ornamenting the candlelit altar of St. Brigid's Roman Catholic Church in Meadville, united in marriage Linda Joan Mesarch and John F. Kucharski Jr. The Rev. Father John J. Cannon, pastor, read the double ring rites in the presence of one hundred and fifty guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Mesarch of Guys Mills, Penna., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kucharski of Buffalo, N.Y.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Ann Callahan at the organ.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride was in a white bridal gown of Chiara crepe styled in an empire silhouette. A wide band of Venetian lace encircled the empire line and was used as a center band on the cathedral length train. Other details of the gown were long tapering sleeves and a bateau neckline and for back interest, a cabochon bow topped the train. A chignon circle of pearls and Venetian lace with crystals secured a short bouffant tier maline veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of fleur de amour centered with a Princess Anne orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Patrick Hayes of E. Vandergrift, Penna., was in a gown of greenspray crepe with a veil of illusion secured by a greenspray bow. She carried a cascade of white and green carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Nardi of Meadville, and Mrs. Daryl Bleakley of Titusville. Both were in ensembles identical to that of the honor attendant.

David Kucharski of Buffalo, brother of the groom, was the best man, and ushers were Patrick Hayes of E. Vandergrift, Joseph Kwas of Warren and John Mesarch, brother of the bride, of Guys Mills.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise linen ensemble with bone accessories and a corsage of apricot roses. The mother of the groom was in a champagne dress and had a corsage of yellow roses.

The reception was held in the A.F.L.-C.I.O. Hall, Meadville. Aides were Mrs. William Mesarch, Mrs. Walter Mesarch, Mrs. Thelma Dewey and Mrs. Charles McDaniel. Miss Debra Allen managed the guest book.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Oklahoma; they will be residing in Shawnee, Oklahoma.

The bride is a graduate of Edinboro State College and has taught 2nd grade at Jefferson Street School, Warren, for the past two years. She has accepted a teaching position in Shawnee. The groom, a graduate of Gannon College, is employed as an Industrial Engineer by Sylvania Electric Products, Shawnee.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. John F. Kucharski and Mrs. Vincent Urbaniak, Buffalo; Mrs. Daryl Bleakley; and, Jefferson's 2nd graders gave a surprise party and a gift.

A Wisconsin newspaper has praised Mrs. Humphrey, saying she is "the type of candidate's wife 'Kingmakers' dream about, with her easy manner, her cozy chats with housewives, her obvious admiration for her husband and her frequent sober references to the needs for idealism in public life."

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD LEE RODGERS

Marilyn Jean Lord and Richard Lee Rodgers made their wedding vows in the presence of one hundred guests at the Young Women's Christian Association recently. Mrs. Martha Lawson, J. P. read the double ring wedding rites. Lighted tapers, arrangements of white gladioli, white carnations with white and yellow daisy pompons and palms were used in decoration. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Jeannette Silzie.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Lord of 12 Beaty Court, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rodgers of Pittsfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon length wedding gown of white re-embroidered lace over bridal taffeta in an A-line silhouette, fashioned with empire waistline indicated with a band of satin, a bateau neckline and bracelet length sleeves. Satin shoulder bows secured the floating panel of scalloped lace. Her brief bouffant veil was secured by a cluster of tulle petals appliqued with pearl centered lace florets. She carried a colonial cascade of white car-

Don't laugh at me. Maybe it does sound rather egotistical and beyond reason, but Muriel, I do know others have succeeded."

The following year, on Sept. 3, 1936, Muriel Buck and Hubert Humphrey were married in Huron.

By 1935, they had been dating often, going to the Wednesday and Saturday dances at Huron ("he was the best dancer in town") when he wrote her during a trip to Washington:

After graduating from Huron High School and while attending Huron College, a friend introduced her to exuberant Hubert Horatio Humphrey. He was working at the soda fountain in his father's pharmacy at the time and says Mrs. Humphrey, the meeting "didn't take."

Hints From Heloise

DEAR FOLKS:
For those of you who love to fringe pieces of celery:
Cut your celery crosswise in about two-inch pieces. I cut mine diagonally (kadawonkile)

'cause I think they are prettier and it's different!
Put a piece on your chopping board. Then, instead of a knife, take a big, big needle (the kind that always comes in needle packages), stick it in the middle of the piece and draw it down through the stalk towards one end. Do this between every other "string."
It's quick and easy and makes a perfectly straight line every time with no effort at all.
I then put mine in a big fruit jar of water and leave overnight in the refrig.
You'll have the prettiest, curly, fringed celery tidbits in town.

Heloise

P.S. Don't wait for company. Do it for your own family. This can be done when a coffee klatch is at your kitchen table, gals.

LETTER OF THOUGHT
DEAR HELOISE:
All I want for my birthday is my breakfast served in bed. I'm a hard-working mother, but if for just one day a year I could have a cup of coffee brought to my bedside . . . and the bedroom door closed and allowed to stay in bed an extra 30 minutes, how wonderful that would be!

Mother of Seven
DEAR HELOISE:
Sometimes in my self-de-frosting refrigerator, the little hole that drains out the water becomes clogged.
So I use my meat baster as a plunger to unclog the line so that the water can run freely again. Works great!
Olga

DEAR HELOISE:
I read that someone wanted suggestions for ironing men's ties. Beginning at the corners, roll several sheets of newspaper into the shape of a funnel, then flatten it. Insert the small end into the tie as far as it will go.
Flatten the tie neatly, turn right side up and place a piece of muslin or pressing cloth on the tie and press with iron.
No shine on the tie at all.
Mrs. Marie Dickson

DEAR HELOISE:
I thought perhaps there might be a few ladies who do not know this little trick . . . bachelors might like it, too.
Save one of those shaker-type bottles and make use of the cigarette ashes instead of throwing them away.
When you pick out the cigarette stubs from an ashtray, pour the ashes into the bottle and use it for cleaning your silver.
Ruth Stroms

It works!
If you run out of silver polish, you might try it in an emergency.
I dampened a sponge with some water, squeezed it out, sprinkled on the ashes and polished my silver tray! Amazing.
Now will someone tell me why?

National Guard Trains at Indiantown Gap

By DAVE PIRILLO

The role of the citizen-soldier has been in and out of the news media frequently in the past few years. An undeclared war in Vietnam and riots coincided with crime in our nation's streets has made it necessary for the National Guard to intensify training for any eventuality.

The mobilization of the Guard into 18 combat-ready divisions has found the local unit—Company A of Bradford-Warren with battalion headquarters of the 112th Infantry in Erie, re-assigned from the 28th Division of Pennsylvania to New York state's 42nd Division of which is commonly called the "Railbox Division."

The move has put Company A and the entire 112th Infantry into a Special Reserve Force that was set up by former Secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara in the fall of 1966. This purpose of the SRF is for swift and immediate call-up for possible duty in Vietnam or other trouble spots in the world.

In February the local Guard began training for the program, which meant a step-up of meetings from the usual 48 to 72 a year. With this the Guardsmen drilled every other weekend until the end of July.

Summer camp opened for the 53rd Brigade of the 42nd Division of which Company A is a part on August 9th and finished up a week ago today at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Annville, Pennsylvania.

All aspects of the Guard's preparation during the year were placed before a test known as the Army Training Test to determine if each unit is capable of being placed into the SRF and returned to the normal amount of drills in a fiscal year. Company A was given the report of excellence from battalion commander, Lieutenant Colonel Spencer Wurst to label the unit as a combat-ready outfit if needed.

The first week at camp the Guardsmen moved out on a four-day bivouac that was simulated into being actual combat conditions. Company commander, Captain Donald Hunter led his men to the bivouac site on a seven-mile road march.

The week brought forth training on defensive tactics and the company in attack with the last night in the field spent on a night withdrawal from defensive positions.

Indiantown Gap officials threw up a make-shift town with the title of Johnson City for the specific purpose of training the Guardsmen to expect anything in dealing with rioters. Junk cars were set on fire, slogans were written on buildings, cat-calls were tossed at the soldiers as they prepared to quell a simulated riot that could take place in Anywhere, Pennsylvania.

Friday of the first week was spent on drilling in this exercise. The use of tear gas, fixed bayonets, gas masks and the like was in accordance of what does happen in these disturbances. Every possible way to disrupt law and order was hurled in the direction of the Guard.

Governor Raymond E. Shafer was honored at the annual Governor's Day Review on Saturday the 17th. The governor bestowed honors on the 110th Infantry Battalion of the Pittsburgh area for their courageous service in the steel city during the outbreak of violence on the nights of April 6th through the 9th after the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King. He then reviewed each individual company on the parade field from an army jeep.

The final week was spent on the ranges qualifying with all the weapons of a light infantry squad and company. The two weeks were closed with a 36-hour military problem with all the facets of combat conditions.

INSPECTION

Unit Commander of Warren, 1st Lt. Dennis O. Gray, inspects Sp-4 Wayne Briggs' M-79 rocket launcher prior to Governor's Day Review festivities.

COMMANDER

Company Commander Donald Hunter inspects the M-60 machine gun while Sgts. Edwin Atwood and Glenn Anderson assist. This weapon was recently issued the Guard along with the M-79 rocket launcher in preparation for Special Reserve Forces assignment. These weapons are currently in use in Vietnam and are considered the best individual combat soldiers can carry in close contact fighting.

SWEEPING UP

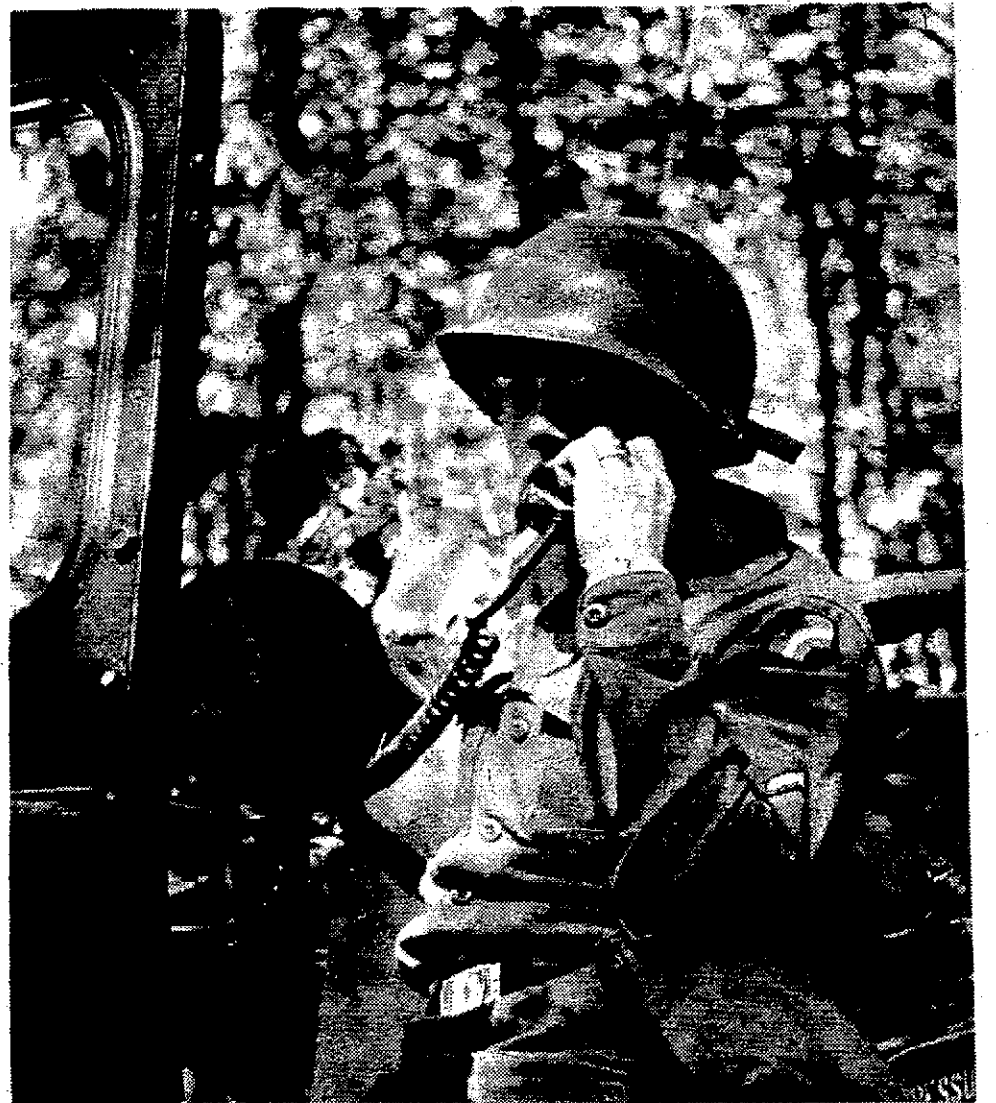

Sp-4 David Cummings and Sp-4 Jim Teconchuk perform the daily duties of sweeping down and mopping up the bay area in the barracks prior to inspection by the first sergeant.

ON WALKIE-TALKIE

Sgt. Tom Wescott keeps in contact with 2nd Lt. Tage Grant with his PRC-6 radio (commonly known as a walkie-talkie). This form of communication is used a great deal in a platoon in order to keep all four squads in the platoon acting as one team in actual situations.

OPERATES RADIO

Pfc. Gary Bentley of Bradford operates commanding officer's radio in his jeep along the march to bivouac area in an effort to keep all three platoons in contact in case of attack by enemy aggressor forces.

RESTING UP

Troops grab a quick nap after noon chow in an effort to make up for sleep lost during the night. The group was pictured along side the barracks.

Your Horoscope By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)--It will save time and energy if you wait long enough to be sure of details before beginning tasks. There are tendencies toward carelessness now.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)--Venus, favorable; stimulates many activities, including painting, artistic work generally; teaching, instructing; organizing, directing entertainment affairs. You can boost your stock considerably now.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)--Your Mercury and several other planets in such fine configuration that all of your ventures should be highly successful now. Avoid being overly-aggressive, however.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)--Here is a chance for your intuition, imagination and sense of humor to work some wonders. Use all talents smartly, conscientiously and your day can be successful, happy.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)--Avoid a tendency to try and extract more out of a situation than feasible. Some excellent opportunities for the eager and well-equipped. Do not confuse independence with contrariness.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)--Under splendid auspices are health, recreational matters and intellectual pursuits. Also favored; Scientific interests. You should have smooth going now.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)--Some quiet contemplation before you start the day can help you straighten out many situations, make the route swifter, surer. Keep looking for better ways to advance your interests and knowledge.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)--Though you wish to get things going pronto, and not waste time with "slow-pokes," it would be best to permit some persons to do their own tasks and let them make the mistakes that teach. Don't overtax yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)--Your vocational activities will be your best source of satisfaction now. Lead without seeming to, and be mindful of the personal wishes of others. Accent the positive.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)--Saturn highly auspicious now. Sincere efforts should lead to solid -- and enduring -- gains. Check possibilities for capitalizing on your creativity.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)--What you do well now will show its effects in the future. So will errors! A little careful thought at the beginning of the day should put you in the proper groove.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)--Take a second look, to catch the mistakes missed the first time around. Be concise but not abrupt -- a present tendency. Self-restraint, some modifications in order.

YOU BORN TODAY: While quick to act, you normally follow a logical course. You are unusually systematic, meticulous about details, and have an excellent memory for work involving thorough knowledge of records and informative data. You may not care much about traveling to faraway places, but you learn much from any place you do visit. You are capable of maintaining a position that requires long and tedious hours, attention to voluminous detail. It is difficult for your intense nature to ease up, let things run by themselves -- but you should, occasionally. Birthdate of: Theophile Gautier, Fr. novelist; Wm. Saroyan, author, playwright; Arthur Godfrey, radio and TV entertainer.

How to Keep Well By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 By The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DIET DROP-OUTS

A Milwaukee woman took exception to my article concerning dieting. "Not everyone can lose weight on a low caloric diet. I am 5½ feet tall and weigh 190 pounds. On several occasions I have tried fad diets as well as a formal plan prepared by my physician. I shed a few pounds, but usually got discouraged after two weeks of trying. Friends tell me that certain people never can reduce because of heredity or metabolism."

This is not necessarily true because adequate caloric restriction almost invariably results in a loss of weight. Reducing diets allow from 800 to 1,200 calories daily and the individual is watched carefully to make sure that he is not cheating.

Under such a regimen, the person loses one to two pounds a week -- not much, but it adds up after a few months. The dieter also consumes less salt to reduce the tendency to retain fluids in the tissues. Forget the scale for a few weeks -- measure the waistline to see how well you are doing.

We assume our reader does not have one of the rarer causes of obesity such as a pituitary tumor or a lazy thyroid gland (hypothyroidism). Plumpness also runs in some families. Children often mimic the eating habits of their parents. Others inherited an excess of fat cells or a system that conserves its energy. Regardless of cause, excess weight is not self-generated; it enters the body via the mouth.

The hazardous aspects of obesity are well known, yet many fatties thrive on excess padding. They are happy, easy-going, lovers of food. Others are unhappy when dieting and of constantly being reminded of the calories in this or that. In my opinion, these people should not diet. Weight may be lost, but there is a 98 per cent chance that it will be regained in less than a year.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CONSTIPATED CHILD

Mrs. E. writes: My 7-year-old son suffers from occasional bouts of constipation. I don't want to make an issue of this problem, but I wonder if he should have a thorough physical examination.

REPLY
The most common cause for constipation in children is on a dietary basis. There are other causes such as Hirschsprung's disease, rickets, and anemia. But before anything is done about this, it should be established whether or not this child has a problem. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on constipation in children.

GESTATION PERIOD

A reader writes: A friend insists that every baby takes 280 days to be born but I claim 280 days is the average. Who is right?

REPLY
Not birth, but time to develop. You are right, because most babies arrive 10 days before or after the 280th day.

READYING FOR SCHOOL

Beginning Wednesday, when all schools open throughout Warren County, shirts 'n' shorts will be out, at least for several hours of the day while classes are in session. Young shoppers eyed back-to-school fashions in windows of downtown stores and pondered decisions as to what style shoes, skirts, sweaters, blouses and the like to select for that first day good impression. This scene was typical in the community as vacation time draws to a close.

Some Changes Posted In School Bus Routes

School bus schedules and routes will remain basically the same this year as those observed during school sessions last year. A few changes, however, have been introduced.

The upper Jackson ave. ext. bus for Warren Area High School and Beaty Junior High School students has been re-routed for the first morning trip. The bus route will now go up Park st. and Cobham Park rd. to Page Hollow. Up Page Hollow rd. to Fifth st. ext. following Fifth st. ext. to Jackson ave. ext. The bus will then travel down Jackson ave. to Beaty and then continue to the high school. The first stop will be at Bauer Hill rd. at 7 a. m., and the final stop at the high school at 8:05 a. m.

For the second trip, providing transportation for Irvinedale School students, the bus will leave the high school, traveling to Jackson ave. by way of Prospect st. The bus will then take a route up Jackson st. ext. to Fifth st., turn right on Fifth st. ext. to Cobham Park rd. where it will turn around for a return trip down Fifth st. to the high school drive, turning left on Prospect to Jackson ave., and left on Jackson ave. to Irvinedale School. Say you start working when you're twenty-one and retire when you're sixty-five. And say you have an eight-hour day, five-day work week . . . with two weeks of vacation and another week of holidays per year. That's eighty-six thousand, two hundred and forty hours. That's a pretty long time. You'd better enjoy what you're doing!

In Pennsylvania, you can have the kind of job you want—in any field from accounting to zoology. Because Pennsylvania's fast growing industries and expanding businesses offer all types of rewarding careers to young men and women.

Try Pennsylvania. After all, you have eighty-six thousand, two hundred and forty reasons why you should enjoy what you're doing.

Selected Viewing

Saturday, 7 p. m. — PENNSYLVANIA OUTDOORS features a film on the Dauphin County Snake Hunt; Warren Clay narrates. Viewers also are invited to visit the Ross Leffler Memorial School of Conservation, near Brockway, Pa., to watch the training of game protectors.

Sunday, 7 p. m. — NET JAZZ offers the premiere of a new eight-program series. Tonight, Count Basie, the classic jazz figure, reminisces about his career, his early days in Kansas City and his admiration for pianists Fats Waller, Pete Johnson, and illustrates with examples of their music.

Monday, 7:30 p. m. — WEATHER AND MAN includes two preview programs of the WEATHER AND MAN series to be offered for college credit this fall over WPSX-TV. Tonight's first program, "Man and the Weather," shows the innumerable effects of weather on business, industry, science and culture. Dr. Charles L. Hosler serves as lecturer. For enrollment information and registration, contact Penn State's Altoona Campus Sept. 9-11 from 7-9 p. m., DuBois Campus Sept. 10-12, Williamsport High School Sept. 12-13 from 7-8 p. m. or the J. O. Tuesday, 8 p. m. — THE ACADEMIC WOMAN presents Mrs. Jessie Bernard, professor honoris causa at Penn State and the author of "Academic Women," from which the idea for this series was taken. Mrs. Bernard, an expert in sociology, talks knowledgeably about academic women. She suggests ways for women to work in this field and continue to meet family responsibilities. Nancy Miller and Gil Aberg are hosts.

Wednesday, 10 p. m. — THE UNEASY COMPROMISE, hosted by Marlowe Froke, focuses on community planning concepts in Pennsylvania's cities. Tonight's first program of a new three-part series analyzes the challenges facing our cities because of the long-standing lack of proper planning. Featured are speakers at a spring seminar held at Penn State on the subject.

Thursday, 9:30 p. m. — SUMMER FESTIVAL offers "A Concert In Brass," featuring the American Brass Quintet of the National Orchestral Association. The music is contemporary, the scene is New York, the director is John Barnett. "Ever had a Newspaper Route?"

When a young man applies for a job he really wants—a job with "a future"—he is very apt to be asked, "Have you ever had a newspaper route?" His answer to that question may well decide whether or not he'll get the job.

Why? Because more and more employers are realizing that former newspaperboys already have a solid business background.

They've bought newspapers at wholesale—sold them at retail—and operated a business of their own. They've already learned that the only way to conduct a successful business is to give service . . . to keep present customers satisfied . . . and to get new customers.

Many of today's executives were yesterday's newspaperboys. They know that a newspaper route is the best part-time job open to a Young American that teaches initiative, the value of money and the importance of getting along with people.

Yes sir . . . there's no doubt about it. For jobs with "a future", employers prefer former newspaperboys.

If you have a son that you think might be interested in a newspaper route, why not write or phone us.

TRINITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH-CLARENDON

America's Gravest Peril

By Rev. Meredith Swift

Pastor of Trinity United Methodist, Clarendon, Pa. Charge

Neglect of the Lord's Day by the majority of our people is perhaps America's gravest peril. Only approximately one out of every five persons in the U.S. will attend Church somewhere this Sunday. Tomorrow morning most Americans will roll over in their beds and go back to sleep, take off for the golf course, or go to the corner newsstand for the Sunday news. It is sad that such is the case when we think of our Pilgrim fathers and the reason for their coming to America for freedom of worship. America has now largely forgotten or neglected this their blessed privilege of holy worship.

Arnold Toynbee, a great British historian, has remarked, "The history of civilization from its beginning can be summarized by this, 'Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it.'" and then Mr. Toynbee cited 19 civilizations which have come to naught because they ignored this principle. There is an alarming parallel between our country and the great nations of history which have risen to great heights only to crumble into oblivion. We are too bent upon a collision course of materialism, sensuality, and politics. As in the days of Noah, the people are eating and drinking, marrying and ignoring God's warnings of impending disaster unless there is full scale repentance.

When Nikita Khrushchev visited the U.S. a few years ago he explained the meaning of his oft quoted prophecy, "We will bury you." It is not that the Soviets will bury us by military conquest, but that we will bury ourselves because we lack an ideology capable of enlisting the dedication and loyalty of the Americans. Only such a commitment can produce the strength of will which is necessary for national survival. Our gravest peril is not Communism, Vietnam, the racial crisis, or the population explosion. It is secularism, the substitution of temporal values for the eternal values. (The replacement of God with mammon.)

Many symptoms of this potentially fatal disease are evident in our culture—the recent God is dead theology; the New Morality—Non ethics; banishing Bible reading and prayer from our schools; the soaring crime statistics; the racial unrest, labor strikes; rise in alcoholism, narcotics, venereal disease, and juvenile delinquency. These are all duly publicized in the press and pulpit, but one important symptom has been largely overlooked — the secularization of the Lord's Day. God's Word says, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." America is fast neglecting this admonition to its own peril.

The Lord's day is not intended as a burden but as a blessing, not as a tax, but as a lifting of the load. "The Sabbath was made for man." All mankind. This day is not set apart by man, but by the Almighty. Jesus transformed the Sabbath, but he did not do away with it. Man needs the Sabbath and that's why it was made for him. Man is like a 7 day clock, every 6 days he needs be wound up by 1 days rest. The human battery needs to be recharged nightly and weekly. If man is the offspring of God, heir to immortal life, then it is very important for him to use the Sabbath in building the spiritual life of his soul.

Reporter and Politician

CHICAGO—Late, very late at night, while the orators droned on about this or that triumph or ignominy of the credentials committee, a CBS reporter on the prowl spotted Richard Daley of Chicago; and thought to while away a minute or two by questioning him. Ho ho ho, he said, and how are you, Mayor Daley?

Grunt.

Mr. Mayor, would you tell us why it is that you covered up some of the city's eyesores just for the sake of the convention?

(Testily) Why didn't you people ask 'em that in Miami?

(A moment's pause. Politicians don't hardly speak that way to CBS). Well, er, Mr. Mayor, I wasn't talking about Miami, I was talking about here, Chicago.

Silence.

(Gately). Well tell me this, Mr. Mayor, could you answer some of the criticisms that have been made about security precautions here?

At this point, Mayor Daley engages someone else in conversation -- as though, can you imagine -- CBS didn't exist.

Buckley

Mercifully, Walter Cronkite pans himself in, smiles urbanely, and says something about how he guesses the Mayor is in an irritated mood tonight, and maybe he hasn't appreciated all the criticism the visitors here have made of him.

The episode throws light on several aspects of the convention in Chicago, some of them applicable to other conventions and, indeed, other situations.

There is the matter of the reporter with microphone in hand. There you are, minding your own, or even the public's business, and suddenly a microphone is thrust two inches away from your mouth, a question is asked of you, and you are unhappily aware that fifty million people are listening for your answer. There are several appropriate responses. If you are, say, Harold Stassen, you grab the mike, and embark on a speech on anything at all, until, and it will be very soon, Walter Cronkite gently vaporizes you from the screen.

Then there is the gentleman who doesn't want to say anything at this point to anybody, let alone to fifty million people, but he is genial by nature, and perhaps wary of antagonizing the media (as we are called), so he answers the question, evasively, and cheerfully, exchanging a little repartee. By the way, very important, he must call the reporter by his first name, else he'll be thought aloof (bad), or so unimportant as not to have been sufficiently interesting to the press in the past, as to have got into first-name terms (very sad).

Then there are those politicians who feel either that they are ex officio big enough to write their own rules concerning press conferences, (Mayor Daley), or those lesser ones who believe that they have that right, irrespective of how big they are (Gene McCarthy). They run grave risks, but they cause at least this heart to flutter with pride at occasional assertions of privacy. Nothing is better calculated to destroy a carefully constructed impression, than careless submissions to redundant interrogation. Richard Nixon delivered, at Miami Beach, a grandiloquent oration -- that is exactly how to describe it -- and immediately upon finishing it, instead of disappearing and permitting the impression he had successfully created to sink in, would you believe it, consented on the way out to pause fifteen or twenty minutes to chit chat with NBC reporters on matters of utter triviality.

This is the stylistic problem. Another problem is the impossibility of dealing capiously with some kind of questions. "Now Mr. Buckley," I was asked on state-wide T.V. at the end of a political campaign, "we have exactly twenty seconds. Would you give us your views on rent control?" I blurted out: "I cannot give my views on rent control in twenty seconds. I say I blurted out because that is not precisely the correct answer to give intellectually, but because it is a politically unsatisfactory answer to give. The proper answer would have been something like: 'I believe that all Americans should have a decent place to live in at a price they can afford to pay, and I deplore and have deplored for years the people who profit from human misery.' Hubert Humphrey could have improved on that. Which is why he is the democratic candidate."

How Things are Going

HARRISBURG — For those who have been away all summer, a compendium herewith on how things have been going in the State Government:

LEARNING — The governor has authorized a $110,430 Federal grant for the Greater Erie Community Council. This will be used for conducting courses in Swahili, an important east African language, and for courses in "natural hair dressing".

DRINKING — A new State law makes chemical breath tests mandatory for motorists arrested on drunk driving charges. Effective Sept. 29, it establishes the concept of "implied consent" the day a driver's license is issued. If a driver refuses to submit to the test, his license can be suspended, without a hearing, and his refusal used as evidence against him in court.

POLITICS — When the State said applicants for 112 new jobs as meat inspectors would need Republican sponsorship, House Minority Leader Herb Fineman called the requirement "reprehensible". When the Nixon press entourage was allowed to use State Capitol facilities, Democratic State Chairman Thomas Minehart said the governor "has set a new high in sheer gall and brassy unconcern for public property and manpower".

EMBARGO — Pennsylvania's Municipal, County and State governments (or their contractors) are now prohibited from buying products made in a foreign country which practices discriminatory trade practices against Pennsylvania products. Among the culprits are Saar Basin coal producers which have erected an effective fence against Pennsylvania coal in some European countries.

THE MORNING LINE — Six front runners for the 1970 Republican nomination for governor: Highways Secretary Robert Bartlett, Revenue Secretary Warner Depuy, House Speaker Ken Lee, Insurance Commissioner David Maxwell, Labor and Industry Secretary John Tabor and Attorney General William Sennett. All are in varying stages of a buildup, the other five casting an envious eye on Maxwell who roams the campaign trail this fall with the keys to the Dick Nixon kingdom -- as Nixon's Pennsylvania campaign manager.

THE NOVEMBER BALLOT — Bonuses for Vietnam veterans is the only referendum on the Statewide ballot. It would pay veterans $25 for each month of service in the Viet theatre up to a maximum of $750. Dependents of deceased veterans would get a flat payment of $1000. The prices are a startling reflection of inflation. World War II and Korean vets got a flat $10 a month for domestic service and $15 for foreign service up to $500 maximum.

A Discouraging Convention

WASHINGTON—The political pundits and journalistic doctors have written reams as to what was wrong with the Democratic party at Chicago. Their diagnoses range from too much corn pone in the White House to the need of youthful, handsome faces on television. Their solutions range from tough GOP law enforcement to the burning of the black flags of anarchy instead of burning draft cards.

The convention just closed, opine the pundits, was the most disruptive, most discouraging in Democratic history -- forgetting of course that it took 103 ballots and almost three weeks to break the Al Smith-William McAdoo deadlock in 1924 or 46 ballots to nominate Woodrow Wilson in 1912.

It may be heretical for us to differ from these prophets of doom and portrayers of the doldrums. Nevertheless we doubt whether less corn pone in the White House, or a youthful Presidential face on television or tough GOP law enforcement or banning student riots are going to change any of these things.

For basically what the Democratic party -- and the nation -- have been suffering from is the fact that you cannot undo in four years the mistakes of 100 years. Whoever is elected President must change those mistakes and it will take him and the nation perhaps 50 years to do so. Those mistakes are:

1. The suppression of the Negro race for 100 years, then the expectation that he learn to play a peaceful role in the community in ten years.
2. The favoritism shown to rural areas for 100 years; then the expectation that the big cities be slum-free and crime-free overnight.
3. The development of machinery which has siphoned men from the farms to the cities and from the factories to the streets with no adequate adult educational system to train them for a different life.
4. Failure to use the most effective mass media we have, namely television, to make up for the lag in education, the increase in crime or the slump in citizenship. On the contrary TV has spurred crime and glorified poor citizenship.

The sad fact is that the delegates who orated and demonstrated at both Miami Beach and Chicago, and who sought new photogenic faces to lead them, had little basic understanding of these mistakes. They did not relate these to crime in the streets or student demonstrations and the black flags of anarchism.

Some of the delegates had just come from Washington where as members of Congress they had shunted aside a tough gun control law, thanks to a powerful lobby based on the outworn idea that
